FLEMMING TELLS OF LUMBERMEN'S FUND

Denies Extortion and Thought
Proposal Had Originated
With Contributors

APPOINTED TEED TO DO THE COLLECTING

New Brunswick Premier Admits Having Had $24,000 in Loan and for Stocks

ACTING-PREMIER CLARKE
TELLS SURPRISING STORY

St. John, N. B., July 17.—Premier Fleming took the witness stand yesterday afternoon to testify in regard to the charges made against him by L. A. Dugal, M.P.P., in connection with the funds collected from the lumbermen of the province for campaign purposes. Mr. Fleming denied extorting money from the lumbermen, directed extortion or receiving any of the money. He admitted having selected E. R. Teed, who gave evidence Wednesday regarding receiving the money, to take charge of the fund which amounted to about $71,000. The premier said he had told W. H. Berry, the man wanted as a witness, who persists in remaining in the United States although requested to come forward and tell what he knows, that Berry must not receive the money. He had, he said, told Berry that he (Mr. Fleming) could not receive the money but if the lumbermen were going to pay it Teed would be the man to handle it.

Mr. Teed had been assigned to the work of making the collection and subsequently, said the premier, when Teed was ill the keys of the safe deposit box where the money was kept had been sent by Mr. Teed to him, but he had never used the keys nor had he received any of the money except $15,000 in a loan and $3,000 for his Gould stocks.

Mr. Fleming swore he believed the fund was made up of voluntary contributions. He spoke as though the idea that a fund should be raised had originated among the lumbermen. He swore Berry told him so, and that he believed it.

As for Teed, the premier admitted readily enough that he selected Teed as custodian of the cash, and his conclusion was that so long as Teed was not an official of the department the transaction was all right.

Moreover, he swore that he didn't know Berry was taking part in the levying of the graft, much less that he was using threats in doing so. The premier said that if he had known compulsion or threats were being employed he would have put a stop to it. He denied having profited personally by the collections which he referred to as a campaign fund.

His evidence came somewhat unexpectedly. He was called as the first witness for the defence and gave his evidence in reply to the questions of his counsel, M. G. Teed, K.C.

Soon after 4 o'clock Mr. Teed asked for an adjournment in order to have time to confer with his client and cross-examination was postponed.

Apart from the evidence of the premier, that of the acting premier, Hon. George J. Clarke was the most surprising of the day. Mr. Clarke announced that when Berry left the country he was regarded by the government as no longer in their service, although they had taken no notice of his departure; have received no resignation from him or have taken no steps to dismiss him. Neither as head of the government nor as attorney-general did he think that he had power to induce Berry to return.

J. D. Seeley, secretary of the Maine & New Brunswick Power company, also gave evidence regarding the stock of that company held by Premier Fleming and Mr. Teed.

Continuing his examination of Premier Fleming to-day Mr. Teed asked questions calculated to show that the province had benefited by the adoption of the Fleming timber policy.

The increase in maple on cedar, fir, hemlock and hardwood increased the revenue by $75,000 a year. Mr. Fleming was then asked to explain how he had secured the five shares of stock in the Maine and New Brunswick Power company.

"I acquired it from the Eastern Securities company," the premier explained, having paid for it through the Bank of Nova Scotia at Fredericton by giving his note in part and a note endorsed by a friend for the balance.

"What became of the liability?"

"I have paid it with the exception of a small amount still unpaid on the note."

"Then you acquired 28 more shares of stock?"

"Yes, as a right on the five shares of old stock. I paid for this partly in cash at the time of issue and partly by draft made by the treasurer on me at sixty days. I sold the stock before the balance of the draft was due, I think."

The premier had first heard of

CANADIANS ARE AT DISADVANTAGE IN BISLEY SHOOTING

Bisley Camp, Eng., July 17.—The United Service challenge cup, ten shots each at 200, 500 and 600 yards, was won yesterday by the Army. This is a service rifle competition confined to British forces as distinct from Indian or Colonial forces, the teams comprising eight members. A special commemorative silver bowl was presented to the captain, adjutant and each member of the winning team. Other teams finished in the following order: Royal Marines, Royal Navy, Territorials, Yeomanry.

To-day is an off-day for the overseas teams, and the Canadians are thus having a very quiet day. The chief event of the list is the famous Eiche shield, a challenge trophy shot for annually by teams of eight representing England, Scotland and Ireland only, which brings together some of the finest match rifle shots in the three kingdoms.

The Canadians are inclined to attribute their indifferent showing in the Mackinnon challenge cup yesterday to the new sights proving puzzling. They also miss the services of a professional armorer.

In the 500 yards sweepstakes, Lieut. Neale, Toronto, made 26.

Corporal Bea, of Montreal, an unattached Canadian shooting at Bisley, but making his headquarters with the Canadian team, has been doing remarkably well in the sweepstakes. Apart from taking first in the 200 and 500 yards sweepstakes yesterday he secured first in the 300 yards sweepstakes again this morning with a total of 35.

In the 300 yards sweepstakes Colonel Brown, of Toronto, another unattached Canadian, was second. In the 1,000 yards sweepstakes Sergt. A. Martin, Calgary, was first with 69.

FIGHTING CONTINUES IN HAITIEN REPUBLIC

Government Troops Recapture Two Towns; Rising Suppressed in Capital.

Cape Haytien, Hayti, July 17.—General Leon Duque, with a government force, recaptured to-day from the rebels the towns of Pere du Midi and Milot, and established communications with the column commanded by the president, which has engaged another rebel band on the plains of Limonade. Another force of government troops took Port de Ronville and then began its march on Ouanaminthe, the principal stronghold of the rebels.

Port au Prince, Hayti, July 17.—A panic was caused to-day by a revolutionary outbreak, accompanied by a considerable amount of shooting in the streets of the Haytien capital. The rising was quickly suppressed by the government forces and order restored.

IMMIGRATION FALLING OFF; SIXTY COME WEST

Winnipeg, July 17.—During the past week there has been a considerable let up in immigration. Very few newcomers have reached Winnipeg, and the outlook for the next few days is that immigration returns will be small. Last night sixty immigrants, mostly Scotch, passed through Winnipeg for the west. A large number were women, some going to join their husbands, while the rest were taking up domestic service.

MINORITY STOCKHOLDERS CLAIMING $306,000,000

Boston, Mass., July 17.—The appointment of a receiver, special master or other official to prosecute claims aggregating $3,600,000 against defendants directors and estates of directors of the New Haven railroad, is asked in a suit filed to-day in the superior court. The action is brought by Whipple Sears and Ogden, representing minority stockholders of the company.

MONTGOMERY SCHUYLER DEAD.

New York, July 17.—Montgomery Schuyler, journalist and author, and known for his published studies in architecture, died of pneumonia yesterday at his home in New Rochelle, N. Y. He was in his 71st year.

BRANKLEY, THE ORIGINAL TREASURER OF THE LUMBERMEN'S FUND, THROUGH BERRY, WHO HAD SAID THAT BRANKLEY WOULD BE ACTING FOR THE LUMBERMEN. ASKED TO-DAY WHAT HAD OCCURRED WHEN HE, TEED, BERRY AND BRANKLEY HAD MET AT THE PARKER HOUSE IN FREDERICTON, HIS RECOLLECTION WAS THAT TEED WAS IN THE ROOM AND THE OTHERS ARRIVED. IN A FEW MINUTES THE WITNESS SAID HE LEFT THE ROOM, GOING DOWN TO THE DINING-ROOM FOR LUNCH. HE DID NOT REMEMBER STATING TO BRANKLEY THAT BERRY SAID TO HIM ABOUT TEED WOULD BE ALL RIGHT. HE WOULD NOT SAY THAT HE HAD NOT MADE TEED'S STATEMENT AND HE WAS WILLING TO ACCEPT MR. BRANKLEY'S STATEMENT THAT HE HAD.

"Had the raising of this fund any influence on the fixing of the rate of bonus?" asked Mr. Teed.

"None whatever," replied the premier. Mr. Fleming then stated that everything he did was with the idea of serving the public interest.

NINE PERSONS HURT WHEN AUTOS CRASH

Hillis Houston, of Victoria, Seriously Injured in Collision at Pt. Grey

FIVE MEN ARE NOW IN VANCOUVER HOSPITAL

Radiators of Both Machines
Smashed in and Car Bodies
Are Piled Up

HOUSTON'S CONDITION
BETTER THIS AFTERNOON

Vancouver, July 17.—Nine people were so seriously hurt in an automobile smashup early to-day on Granville street, Point Grey, just south of the intersection of Wilson road, that three of them may die. All the occupants of two cars, which must have been running at speed, were injured. Two of them, Ted Havens, manager of the Vancouver Press Club, and Hillis Houston, of Victoria, owner and driver of the car in which Havens was a passenger, suffered fractured skulls, and are unconscious at the Vancouver General hospital, whither they were taken a short time after the accident. Five, all told, are still in the hospital, while the remaining four were not badly enough hurt to detain them there after their surface wounds had been dressed.

At 2 o'clock this afternoon Mr. Houston was somewhat better. Physicians at the hospital were hopeful for his recovery.

The collision occurred this morning just before 3 o'clock. A heavy Cadillac car was coming towards the city from Eburne, James Boyd, a chauffeur for the Western Taxicab company, was driving, and with him were three passengers, all men. In the other car, which was a five-passenger Ford, were Hillis Houston, owner and driver, son of ex-Alderman W. K. Houston, of Victoria, and four companions. They included Sanford Wolf, who is said to have been sitting with Houston in the front seat; Harry Seaman, Sam Barnett and Ted Havens. The Ford was a comparatively new car. Mr. Houston and his party had been for a drive around the city after the Press Club had closed at 1 a.m. They were proceeding south on Granville street and had just crossed the intersection of Wilson road when the collision occurred.

It was asserted by one occupant of Houston's light car that they did not see any lights of the approaching Cadillac and did not know of the other car's presence until a moment before the crash came.

The cars met nearly head-on, both radiators being crushed in. When the impact came the three men sitting in the rear seat of the Ford were thrown out over the front of the car and alighted on their heads and shoulders on the pavement. Mr. Houston and the man sitting with him in the front seat struck first and the three from the rear seat fell on them. So great was the shock that rivets holding the body of the Ford to the rear axle were drawn away and the car body was shoved forward several inches off its support.

The engine of the Ford is bent back and the front wheels at the right of the Ford and the left of the Cadillac were practically obliterated. The Ford was stripped of spokes as cleanly as if the operation had been performed with a knife. The right hand front wheel of the Ford apparently took the brunt of the blow.

Mr. Houston, driver of the Ford car, is very seriously injured. His skull was fractured and an operation was performed immediately after he was admitted to the hospital by Dr. H. W. Riggs.

Mr. Boyd, driver of the Cadillac, was still unconscious at 11 o'clock this morning, and it was reported at the hospital that he is believed to have sustained a fractured skull.

Mr. Havens' injuries are considered to be very serious, and his recovery is doubtful.

MINERS FIGHTING AT PRAIRIE CREEK CAMP

Fort Smith, Ark., July 17.—Reports received here to-day state that fighting was in progress between union and non-union miners at the plant of the Mammoth vein coal company at Prairie creek. One main tiple has been burned, it is stated, and another dynamited. Telephone wires to Prairie creek are down, and details are lacking. A strike has been in progress at the Prairie creek mine for months.

Advices from Huntington say mines Nos. 1 and 4 have been destroyed by dynamite and fire.

The sheriff's office has sent a posse of officers to the scene of the rioting.

SIX DIE IN TRAIN WRECK.

Norfolk, Va., July 17.—Six were killed and 19 injured to-day when an excursion train crashed into a Virginia railway freight train at a grade crossing near this city.

CHICAGO DETECTIVES FIGHT PISTOL BATTLE

Police Sergeant Killed During Disturbance in Vice District Last Night

FOUR OTHERS WOUNDED
INQUIRY BEING HELD

Killing Precipitated by Gang
Engaged Driving Plain
Clothes Men Out

DISTRICT CHARACTERS ARE BELIEVED WOUNDED

Chicago, July 17.—Stanley J. Birns, a police sergeant in the detective bureau under Captain John Halpin, was shot dead in a pistol battle between two squads of detectives in the vice district last night.

Detective John Sloop, Birns' partner; Jos. T. Merrill and Fred Amert, detectives under Mr. L. C. Funkhouser, deputy superintendent in charge of the morals squad, and a fireman named Carroll were wounded. Sixty shots were fired.

Detectives Shubert and Cary, of the Twenty-second street police station, broke up the riot and took Amert, whose wound was slight, to the station, where he is being held. The dead detective was a member of the regular plain clothes force. Sloop was shot through the thigh.

In the investigation of Chief of Police Gleason two facts appeared to stand out, that the killing and wounding of the policemen was precipitated by a gang of vice district characters and that many of the shots fired came from weapons in the hands of the gangsters. It was thought that several of the crowd of vice district characters were wounded and had been hidden by their friends. The affray was possible because the morals squad men, Merrill and Amert, did not recognize Birns and Sloop. Merrill and Amert had been policemen but a short time. They had just raided a disorderly resort and sent a wagonload of prisoners to the station. A gang of vice district characters followed and hooted Merrill and Amert as they walked away from the place.

Stones and bottles were thrown and the detectives drew their revolvers. Just then Birns and Sloop ran up to disperse the mob, and the shooting began. Merrill declared that the first shot was fired by a man in the crowd who dodged behind a woman. Another woman had just fallen, he said, having been hit by a brick. Merrill said he fired his revolver at the man.

PROMOTIONS IN FREIGHT SERVICE OF THE C. P. R.

Winnipeg, Man., July 17.—W. B. Lanigan, assistant freight traffic manager of the C. P. R., announces that R. E. Larmour, now division freight agent at Vancouver, has been appointed assistant general freight agent with headquarters at Vancouver. He is succeeded as division freight agent by H. A. Plow, now district freight agent at London, Ontario. Carl Morse, now division freight agent at Port William, succeeds Mr. Plow at London, and Gerald Hiam, now travelling freight agent at Toronto, goes to Port William to succeed Mr. Morse.

REPRESENTING CANADA AT SOCIALISTIC CONGRESS

Toronto, Ont., July 17.—Controller Simpson, of Toronto, has been chosen Canada's representative to the International Socialist Congress which meets next month in Vienna, Austria. Mr. Simpson was elected on a vote taken from all over the Dominion. There were four other candidates, two from Port Arthur, one from London, and one from British Columbia.

BOY BELIEVED KILLED SHOCKS FRIENDS AGAIN

Edmonds, Wash., July 17.—Struck by lightning, laid away and covered up as dead until the storm should end, a boy member of a camping party, the guests of Mrs. L. C. Engel, near Martha Lake, gave the party a second shock by creeping around at their tent twenty minutes after the electrical storm broke. It is believed the severe drenching revived him.

LASSEN PEAK SENDS UP TWENTIETH ERUPTION

Redding, Cal., July 17.—Lassen peak is now giving almost daily performances. At six o'clock this morning the twentieth eruption shot skyward in a pillar of blackened steam. The phenomena were the same as those described before and of about equal intensity.

CITIZENSHIP CARRANZA'S ONLY DESIRE AFTER HIS COUNTRY OBTAINS PEACE

Attorney-General Surrenders Office Occupied Under Dictator's Rule—Governor of Puebla, Relative of Defeated Leader, Retires—Amnesty Proclamation Requested

Laredo, Tex., July 16.—General Carranza, first chief of the constitutional army, has no ambition to be president of Mexico, according to a statement he made yesterday to a friend, a foreigner. Advice to this effect reached the border to-day.

General Carranza declared that when he is sure that peace has been restored to his country and a constitutional government installed to carry out the reforms for which he fought, he will be willing to return to his home in Cuatro Ciénegas, Coahuila, and to the life of a private citizen.

Huertistas Resign From Office.

Mexico City, July 17.—Ricardo Gomez Rebello, attorney-general of the republic, has resigned. General Hernandez, governor of Puebla, and father-in-law of Victor Huerta, son of the ex-president, has also resigned. The state legislature appointed Francisco Canzeco to succeed him.

Gambling houses in the capital were closed last night by order of President Carranza. It was announced that no more gambling would be allowed.

Washington, July 17.—Administration officials saw peace looming to-day on the horizon of Mexican politics. Francisco Carranza's informal statement to the Washington government that he intended to retire in favor of Carranza, constitutionalist chief, and Carranza's announcement that he was willing to negotiate with the federalists for peaceful transfer of power in Mexico City, was regarded as practical assurance that the era of bloodshed was near an end in the southern republic.

The road remained to be cleared, however, for negotiations between the Mexican factions, Carranza, Huertista successor, seeks a proclamation of general amnesty for the forces which fought against the northern armies. The crux of the situation appeared to hang on the extent of the quarter that Carranza might be willing to grant his fallen foes.

That all stumbling blocks would be put aside, however, for the peaceful entry of Carranza into the Mexican capital, was the belief generally expressed. Secretary Bryan was particularly optimistic over possibilities for peace.

"Watchful waiting," he thought, had resulted in success. He expressed the attitude that Villa, the northern military chief, might take toward the new turn in the situation, partially discounted by his statement that there was no need for apprehension regarding my stay in the north. He said he expected to move his troops from Chihuahua state toward Mexico City within the next few days.

Definite official advice came through Mr. Castellot that the committee of three constitutionalists which had started from Mexico City on Wednesday to talk with Carranza, was authorized to negotiate with him for the transfer of the government at Mexico City. It will probably be two or three days before the commission, on account of the interrupted communication, will be able to reach Carranza.

Looming up as an ultimate complication in the situation is the proposed repudiation by Carranza of the financial obligations incurred by the Huerta regime. Since that administration was recognized as legal by the powers of Europe, every effort will be exerted by them to maintain the validity of the claims of their subjects.

While Carranza has given notice of his intention to repudiate such details, there is some confidence in diplomatic circles here that he will not care to invite the disapproval of Europe at the beginning, and it is being suggested that an international commission to adjudicate such claims will be formed.

LONDON PRESS SAYS MEXICAN QUESTION FAR FROM SETTLED

London, July 17.—Commenting upon the resignation of President Huerta, the morning papers give credit to President Wilson for the success of his policy, but considers that the Mexican imbroglio is in no way solved.

The Chronicle asserts that it is premature to describe it as a triumph for Mr. Wilson.

The Daily Mail regards Huerta's resignation as granting a respite, but not a reprieve in the situation. The Times considers that President Wilson never intended to elevate the rule of non-recognition applied to Huerta into a policy of universal application.

"But," adds the Times, "the sequel has proved him right, and his remarkable innovation in diplomatic procedure has thus far justified itself both in aim and method. The ultimate Mexican question, however, is not yet disposed of. Rather it is beginning to reveal its true proportions."

PORFIRIO DIAZ SILENT ON FLIGHT OF HUERTA

Former Dictator Reported Privately to Have Favored Huerta's Retirement.

Paris, July 17.—General Porfirio Diaz, former dictator of Mexico, was packing in preparation for his departure for Biarritz for the summer season when the news came that General Huerta decided to resign.

Neither the former dictator nor his son, Porfirio Diaz, Jr., would make any comment, but it is known that he suggested to Huerta some months ago the advisability of retiring.

Privately, General Diaz has often sharply criticized the policy of the Washington administration, but he has for some time held the opinion that Huerta's disappearance would facilitate a solution of the Mexican problem.

VAN LOAN RECOVERING FROM AUTO ACCIDENT

San Bernardino, Cal., July 17.—Charles E. Van Loan, short story writer, injured yesterday in an automobile accident, was reported to-day to be mending as rapidly as could be expected. His jaw and left forearm and elbow were fractured.

ASQUITH ANNOUNCES SESSION IN AUTUMN

Provisional Date is End of November or Early in Following Week

PREMIER IS SECRETIVE ON AMENDING PLANS

Majority of Dominions Royal Commission Sailed To-day for Canada

MUCH INTEREST TAKEN IN CANADIAN SESSION

London, July 17.—The prime minister announced in the House of Commons to-day that the government had decided to hold an autumn session of parliament and fixed the date provisionally for the last week in November or the beginning of December. The cabinet to-day held the third meeting of the week to consider the Irish situation and the allocation of business for the remainder of the session.

Mr. Asquith, much to the chagrin of the opposition, refrained from any reference to the lines along which he would aim at a settlement of the Ulster problem when the House of Lords amendment comes up before the commons at the beginning of the week.

The press in general indulges in a great game of guessing as to the probable outcome of next week's debate, but even the Liberal backbenchers confess that they are entirely ignorant of the prime minister's plan and that the whole business is as uncertain as ever.

The government is assailed by a variety of counsels and even threats from the Nationalist leaders and the Labor party, but although the opposition would be glad of an inkling as to the prime minister's intentions with the amending bill, Mr. Asquith has not allowed any but his cabinet members into his confidence.

Dominion Commission.

The majority of the members of the Dominions Royal Commission sail to-day for Canada, including Sir Rider Haggard and the South African, Australian and New Zealand representatives. Sir Edgar Vincent, now Lord Dabernon, goes later.

The greatest significance is being attached to the Canadian enquiry as one of the principal matters the commission intends thoroughly to thresh out the question of freight rates.

Immigration and empire telegraphy are also on the agenda, and it is stated that the commissioners are hopeful of forming a scheme of co-operation between Canada and Great Britain by which two British cables may be leased in the Atlantic.

NATIONALIST TRADERS ISSUE AN ULTIMATUM

Carriack-on-Shannon Will Quit Belfast Connections If Ulster Persists.

London, July 16.—A manifesto signed by two magistrates, a county councillor and the principal Nationalist traders of Carriack-on-Shannon has been issued in which it is stated that the merchants and traders of this completely commercial centre have unanimously decided to sever all connections with Belfast if Ulster persists in her attitude of opposition to the Home Rule bill.

This decision has caused much discussion among trading circles in the west as a big trade is transacted with Belfast both in banking and commercially. Carriack-on-Shannon is the capital of Leitrim, in which county every parish has its company of volunteers. This ultimatum to Ulster is being taken up in nearly every town in Leitrim, and commercial travelers from the north are already finding it difficult at present to secure orders.

MILLAIS PORTRAIT IS SLASHED BY MILITANT

Anne Hunt Cuts Picture of Thomas Carlyle and Cuts Her Hands.

London, July 17.—A militant suffragette slashed with a butcher's cleaver the portrait of Thomas Carlyle, the Scottish historian, painted by Sir John Millais and hanging in the national portrait gallery. The woman was arrested after a severe struggle with the attendants. At the police station she gave her name as Anne Hunt.

The attendants had the greatest difficulty in preventing Miss Hunt from doing further damage. She struggled desperately but eventually was handed over to the police. She was bleeding profusely from cuts on her hands, caused by the breaking of glass.

FOUNDATION STONE OF PROVINCE BLOCK LAID

Prince Arthur of Connaught Officiates at Ceremony in Charles Street, London

London, July 17.—Prince Arthur of Connaught yesterday laid the foundation stone of the magnificent new office of the Agent-General for the province of British Columbia in Charles street, off Regent street. His Royal Highness, who was received by Hon. J. H. Turner, said the progress already made in so brief a time by the people of British Columbia was conclusive proof of the greatness of the natural resources of that province. He did not doubt that the province's natural rate of development would be yet further assisted by the opening of the Panama canal, which should greatly stimulate direct trade between that province and this country. The completion of two transcontinental lines of railway now nearly finished and the addition in the not distant future of a third line, supplemented as they were by local lines constructed through the enterprise and with the assistance of the government of the province, would greatly facilitate the development of the northern part of the territory and link the province yet more closely with the rest of the Dominion, of which, he said, it formed so important and so valuable a part. The Duke of Connaught sent his congratulations and best wishes on the occasion of the opening of the building. "I trust," he said, "that this new building may be of the greatest use to that great and beautiful province to which I hope to pay a visit shortly."

Sir Richard McBride, premier of British Columbia, also sent congratulations in a cablegram.

VANCOUVER LIBERALS HOLD PICNIC SATURDAY

Many Thousands Will Be at Exhibition Park To-morrow for Summer Gathering.

Vancouver, July 17.—The biggest and best summer event of the year will undoubtedly be the great picnic to be held under the auspices of the Liberal organizations of Greater Vancouver, in Exhibition park to-morrow, commencing at 2 o'clock. If fine weather prevails it is safe to predict that the people who will attend this, the second annual picnic gathering of the Liberal associations, will number many thousands. In addition to speeches commencing at 4 o'clock by men prominent in the party, a splendid programme of athletic events has been arranged and substantial prizes will be awarded the winners.

It is a disappointment to many that Hon. Frank Oliver, M. P., Edmonton, ex-minister of the interior for the Dominion, who, it was expected, would be able to attend and deliver an address, finds it impossible to make the journey. The committee has secured several other speakers.

THUNDERSTORMS BREAK UP EXTREME WEATHER

Three Deaths and Many Prostrations Occur in Kansas Because of Great Heat.

Kansas City, Mo., July 17.—Thunderstorms came on the heels of the hottest day of the year in Kansas City and western Missouri, and most places in this section report relief from the hot wave that sent thermometers above the 100-degree mark.

One man was killed by lightning and several prostrations from heat occurred in Kansas yesterday. In several cities new heat marks for the season were recorded. Salina reported the highest temperature in the state 105 degrees while Topeka with 103 and Leavenworth and Emporia, each with 102, were among those setting new season records.

Two deaths caused by the heat occurred here last night. The victims were Eugene D. Clark, an engineer, and Ridge N. Hyde, a stenographer.

PUBLIC SCHOOL BOYS SHOOTING AT BISLEY

Several Unattached Canadians at Ranges Are With the Dominion Team.

Bisley Camp, Eng., July 17.—The weather yesterday was showery, but the conditions for shooting otherwise were excellent. This morning the camp was invaded by the public school boys and their admiring relatives who came to witness the shooting off of the Ashburton challenge shield, a service rifle competition open to one team of eight pupils from each of such schools as have a contingent of the junior division of the officers' training camp.

Unattached Canadians shooting at Bisley and making their headquarters with the Canadian team are as follows: Col. B. H. Brown, 12th York Rangers, Toronto, Ont.; Corporal Bea, third Victoria Rifles of Canada, Montreal, Que.; Sgt. Graham, 48th Highlanders, Toronto; Sgt. McCoy, 13th Royal Regiment, Hamilton, Ont.; Lieut. Morrison, 10th Royal Grenadiers, Toronto, Ont.; Lieut. Neale, 10th Royal Grenadiers, Toronto, Ont.; Cadet Carr Harris, Royal Military College, Kingston, Ont.

EXPOSITION SPACE HAS BEEN OVER SUBSCRIBED

Half Million Flowering Plants Offered From Many Countries for 1915 Fairgrounds.

San Francisco, July 17.—Although the total area of the exhibit spaces in the 1915 exposition palaces exceeds three million square feet it has been far over applied for, and it is now necessary for the chiefs of the various departments to select the most meritorious exhibits and to eliminate those which do not meet in every way the requirements of the exposition. It is also necessary to reduce the amount of space applied for in almost every instance in order to accommodate the sixty thousand spaces which have been tentatively allotted.

In orders just sent by the Panama-Pacific International exposition to Japan, Australia, England, Holland and Belgium, more than 500,000 flowering plants are ordered for the exposition grounds. The long list includes rhododendrons of hybrid varieties, daffodil bulbs, May-flowering tulips, early tulips, anemones, ranunculus, hyacinths, Spanish iris, Japanese iris, English iris, narcissus, red azaleas, tree peonies and lilies.

TORONTO RAILWAY IS CONTROLLED BY FORGET

Government Experts Find Mackenzie & Mann Are Not Owners of the System.

Ottawa, July 17.—"It has been found out," said a broker yesterday, "by the government experts who have investigated the holdings of Mackenzie & Mann, that the Toronto Street Railway company is not controlled by Mackenzie & Mann, as generally supposed, but by Sir Rodolphe Forget, of Montreal."

The fact that the public believed Mackenzie & Mann controlled led that company seemed to be indicated when the stock of the Toronto street railway moved up about a point, selling at $125. This was claimed to be due to the announcement that the government had signed the guarantee bonds of the C. N. R. The Brazilian Traction company's stock also moved up from 71 to 72. This is one of the companies in which Mackenzie & Mann are largely interested.

WEALTH OF FLOWERS IN SHOW AT DUNCAN

King's Daughters Summer Exhibition of Home Grown Blooms is Successful

Duncan, July 17.—The sweet pea and rose show held at Duncan Wednesday, under the auspices of the King's Daughters was the first function to take place in the new agricultural hall. The main features of the exhibition were: Sweet peas and roses, in each of which classes a silver challenge cup was awarded. The sweet pea cup was won by Fry and Taylor, and the rose cup by Mrs. Elkington. Some very striking exhibits were entered in the carnation class, those grown by Mrs. Townsend and Miss M. H. Estridge carrying off first and second prizes. Much interest was shown in two model gardens most ingeniously constructed by Miss Joyce Silience and Miss Everlid Hopkins. Each garden boasted a rustic summerhouse, a sheet of ornamental water, and a pergola. Miss Silience's garden was enclosed by a neatly clipped box hedge, while a couple of ducks swimming on Miss Hopkins' pond lent to the scene a domestic touch that caused much amusement.

The decorated tables were judged by a ballot of visitors, the most admired table being that of Mrs. Whitmore. Mrs. Elkington's got second prize. Mrs. C. F. Walker was awarded third. Mrs. Justin Gilbert and Mr. E. B. Pemberton kindly came from Victoria to judge. At the close of the afternoon the prizes were presented by Mrs. W. H. Elkington. The awards were as follows:

JAIL ATMOSPHERE WAS PARTLY CAUSE OF DEATH

Aged Man Overcome in Vancouver Cell Dies From Weakened Heart.

Vancouver, July 17.—Overcome, apparently, by the foul atmosphere which he was compelled to breathe in the city jail, Charles A. McNutt, a man of 83 years, died yesterday morning in his cell. McNutt was noticed to be very ill by the jailer at 5.30 in the morning, and to be vomiting. An hour later when the jailer looked into the cell the old man was dead. It is supposed that the close confinement and the bad air made him sick, and brought on a spasm of vomiting. This is thought to have been too much for his weakened heart, which stopped.

McNutt was arrested on the previous day following an attempt to commit suicide.

He is thought to have a wife and family in Seattle.

Had Nervous Dyspepsia

With Frequent Sick Headaches and Much Pain, After Eating — Dr. Chase's Nerve Food Cured.

This letter is from a lady who gained 14 pounds by using the great food cure. It did wonders for her in improving her general health. She is enthusiastic in its praise, and refers to her neighbors as witnesses of the splendid results obtained.

Mrs. Susan Dobson, Spring Hill Mines, N. S., writes: "It is with pleasure that I write to you in praise of Dr. Chase's Nerve Food. I was troubled with dyspepsia, and could not eat without suffering much pain; also had sick headaches frequently, and my nerves were in bad condition. About ten years ago I took a thorough treatment of Dr. Chase's Nerve Food, using altogether 21 boxes, and since then can eat anything, have been freed from headaches, and my health has been greatly improved in every way. I gained 14 pounds in weight, and feel sure I owe everything to Dr. Chase's Nerve Food. You may use this letter, and my neighbors can tell you of my condition before using this treatment."

HEARST DESTROYED BY FIRE BEGUN IN FOREST

Toronto, Ont., July 16.—Forest fires were responsible for the destruction of the town of Hearst in northern Ontario, Wednesday afternoon. The fire swept down on the town in the afternoon and all efforts to combat it were hopeless. The town had a population of between six and eight hundred, mostly foreigners.

The Northern Ontario Development branch of the provincial government had a warehouse there which was destroyed. Only three or four houses escaped destruction. Little was known at the department here outside of the fact that a disastrous fire had occurred.

MASONS CELEBRATING 100 PEACEFUL YEARS

Grand Lodge Meets at Niagara Where Several Officers Are Elected

Niagara Falls, Ont., July 17.—Celebration of the hundred years of peace was the feature of the meeting yesterday of the Grand Lodge of Canada, A. F. & A. M., and the seating capacity of the arena, which hold over 1,200, was taxed to its limit. The grand master, W. W. McPherson, referred to the importance of the occasion and the pleasure everyone felt in attending.

He was followed by Rev. Z. B. Phillips, of St. Peter's Anglican church, St. Louis.

Melvin Johnson, of Boston, grand master of the Massachusetts Grand Lodge, pointed out that the order which sought to unite mankind, alone had the supreme privilege of a magnificent and eternal memorial to peace among mankind.

J. W. Johnston, Toronto, as representative of the Grand Lodge of England, said: "We have never met under happier auspices than on this occasion, when we gather to rejoice in the completion of the hundred years of peace between the family of free states and the world-wide family of free nations which we call the British empire. Let us hope and pray that this gathering also marks the beginning of twenty centuries of peace between these two great nations."

At the business session the following were elected: Grand junior warden, John Tanner, Toronto; grand chaplain, J. A. Woodside, Brantford; grand registrar, Robert J. Gibson, Toronto.

Elected to the board of general purposes: Thomas Rowe, London; E. W. Harcourt, Toronto; Fred Cook, Ottawa; W. M. Logan, Hamilton, and J. F. Reid, Windsor.

An interesting presentation of a silver dish was made to the grand master by Mr. Morrison, grand master of Indiana Grand Lodge, on behalf of the Grand Lodge of the United States. In his reply Mr. McPherson showed the minute books of Barton lodge, Hamilton, 125 years ago, containing a resolution of sympathy on the death of George Washington.

At the evening session expressions of good will were voiced by the representatives of the United States. Melvin Johnson, of Boston, grand master of the oldest Masonic jurisdiction in America, declared that there must be homogeneity introduced in the future to make civilization permanent and peaceable. Other speakers were Rev. Canon Tucker, London, Ont.; A. Stewart, deputy grand master of Missouri, and Henry Wilson, of Nebraska.

The meeting closed with a wave of enthusiasm. Thos. J. Bonner, of Tennessee, in the course of an address, moved that the gathering place itself on record to labor for universal peace, and call on all Masons to aid in the establishment of a peace commission, no government to make war until the commission had exhausted all means to secure adjustment.

AGITATION TO INCREASE SESSIONAL INDEMNITY

Lancaster's Action First Move Towards Revival of Matter That Was Mentioned Last Session.

Ottawa, July 17.—The Evening Free Press says: It is probable that during the next session of parliament steps will be taken by the members to urge upon the Dominion government the advisability of increasing the sessional indemnity, which is now $2,500. The agitation will receive some support from the action of E. A. Lancaster, who, yesterday, declined to continue as a member for Lincoln, which he has represented in the commons for fourteen years, on the ground that he cannot afford it.

It will be remembered that last year a round robin was circulated among the members of parliament requesting the government to increase the sessional indemnity of members of the house of commons and senate by $1,500, making it $4,000.

Hearing of the movement through the newspapers, however, Premier Borden announced definitely that there would, at that time at all events, be no increase in the sessional indemnity. The movement thus died a violent death. It will now undoubtedly be revived.

TWELVE MASKED MEN CARRY OUT LYNCHING

Baker, Ore., July 17.—Twelve masked men yesterday lynched an unidentified man in the canyon between Audrey and Whitney, Ore. The victim, who had attacked the 8-year-old daughter of J. B. Hardman, of Audrey, was being taken to Whitney by Hardman, where he was to be turned over to a deputy sheriff. He had been caught late at night by Ranchers. When the sheriff arrived the mob had dispersed. It was Baker county's first lynching in years.

TEED TELLS MORE OF CAMPAIGN COLLECTION

Evidence Now Brings It Down to Berry Who Remains Across Border

St. John, N. B., July 17. E. R. Teed, the bag holder for Premier Flemming in the collection of campaign funds from lumbermen of New Brunswick, appeared before the commission inquiring into the matter here again yesterday and told of waiting on F. E. Sayre, of the Sayre lumber company. Mr. Sayre, he said, had told him that they expected to "come in" and wanted to know what his firm was expected to do. Mr. Teed said he told Sayre that the others were making contributions on the basis of $15 per mile. Mr. Sayre gave him to understand that they would contribute, but Mr. Sayre swore that he did not pay and the witness said he did not get any money from him. Mr. Brankley also had given him to understand that the Meramachi Lumber company would come in but he never got their money either.

The witness explained his reason for refusing to take the monies which Berry tendered him after the charges had been laid. He said that he believed only the money which had gone into Berry's hands could be investigated by the commission under the way the charges were made. The witness said that he had been asking Mr. Flemming to act as treasurer of the fund but that so far as contributions were concerned he was governed more by the statement he got from Mr. Brankley, who said that the parties who made up the fund had done so with the idea of providing a political fund.

The witness was asked if he did not have the next election in mind when he was looking after this fund, and he said he probably did. In view of the charges that had been laid and the evidence which had come out, thus making the matter public, he would in due course be governed by a committee in handling of the funds. This wound up Mr. Teed's evidence and there was no cross-examination.

James D. Sealey, secretary of the Maine & New Brunswick Power company, swore that issues of the stock in that company to Mr. Flemming and to Mr. Teed were made in the usual manner as to all other purchasers. Bank managers from Woodstock, St. Stephen and St. John had been subpoenaed. Mr. Carvel said, but he would not find it necessary to summon them in view of the complete evidence which Mr. Teed had given.

"That," said Mr. Carvel, "brings it down to Berry." He went on to say that he had done all in his power to get Berry here. A friend of his in St. Stephen had wired him a week ago last Friday night that Berry was in Calais, across the Maine border, and he had gone there on Saturday, July 4 to see him because Berry had sent word that he wanted to talk to him.

"I went as far as I felt I could, both in coaxing and in threats," said Mr. Carvel, "but was not successful in getting him to come before the commission."

WORMS DESTROY CROPS THROUGH BRANT COUNTY

Brantford, Ont., July 17.—Notwithstanding that millions of the army worms have been killed by fire, trenches and poison, millions are marching through Brant county destroying everything in their path. Farmers are digging trenches between the worms and the fields. The worms cannot climb over the furrows, and they fall into the trenches. Coal oil is then poured over them and set on fire. Farmers say that already a great amount of the crops have been ruined.

RAILWAY COMPANIES FENCES DIFFERENT

Railway Commissioners Discover Number of Wires on Posts Vary.

Ottawa, July 17.—The engineering department of the board of railway commissioners has drawn the attention of the board to the fact that the different railway companies use different fences. For example, the Grand Trunk Pacific used a five-wire fence with a board on top; the Grand Trunk railway uses a ten-wire fence; the C.P.R. uses a five-wire fence to stop horses and cattle only, and a seven-wire fence on smooth or level ground with the bottom wire six inches from the ground; while the C.N.R. uses a seven-wire fence.

The question of the adoption of a standard fence was brought to the attention of the railway companies during the recent western trip of the board. No representations, however, have been filed by the railway companies.

A statement issued by A. D. Cartwright, secretary of the board, acting under the orders of the commissioners, says he is of the opinion that it is inadvisable for the board to prescribe any standard fence.

GENERAL HUERTA MOVES ON SLOWLY TO SEAPORT

Passes Through Centre of Hostile District in Well-Guarded Train Without Haste.

Puerto Mexico, July 17.—General Huerta stopped on his leisurely journey from Mexico City to this port, and passed the night at Tierra Blanca, in the state of Vera Cruz, the centre of a district overrun by small bands of revolutionists, who have uttered the boast that they will never let the departing former dictator reach the coast.

Under the best conditions, Huerta could not arrive here before noon, and it was thought unlikely by his waiting family that he would be in Puerto Mexico before late in the afternoon.

It was 6 o'clock this morning when Huerta departed from Tierra Blanca, his train being preceded and followed by troop trains. No order were given to the engineers to attempt to make up lost time.

General Huerta's failure to hasten his exit from the country was the cause of some worry to his wife, while Senora Blanquet, whose husband, former minister of war, is with his old chief, was frightened into a state of hysterics by the delay.

Reports from various points along the line give no reason to believe that any unpleasant incident had occurred. Jamaica was the port most frequently mentioned aboard the foreign ships as the destination of General Huerta, although all admitted that the final choice of a place of refuge lay with the overthrown president.

THERE ARE OTHERS.

On Wednesday we published a dispatch from Vancouver stating that a supreme court judge had confirmed the sale of the assets of the B. C. Fisheries Company for $300,000. This means, according to the dispatch, that the British Columbia creditors of the concern, representing $100,000, will receive nothing, as the sum involved in the sale will not nearly be sufficient to satisfy the claims of the preferred debenture holders in England.

The fate of this company demonstrates that it is not always the wicked Canadian promoter who beguiles the trusting British investor into unprofitable ventures in the Dominion and thus gives a bad name to overseas securities. The B. C. Fisheries Company was promoted by the late Sir George Doughty and was enormously overcapitalized, with the not surprising result that it went into liquidation. Before doing so, however, it managed to contract considerable liabilities in this province for supplies of various kinds, and it is the creditors on account of these who, being outside of the magic circle bounded by the $300,000 realized on the sale of the company's assets, will suffer.

A SMASHED MACHINE.

When the results of the election in Manitoba were announced the Times expressed the opinion that the days of the Roblin government were numbered, that the machine had been smashed and that all the skilled and cunning workmen on the payroll of the Roblin-Rogers dynasty could not put it together again. But as the Times may be charged with prejudice, we shall put in testimony which certainly is not biased, or, if biased at all, may be assumed to lean towards the other side, that is to the side of the administration. The Toronto World, owned and edited by a Conservative with a seat in the Dominion Parliament, passes the following judgment upon the Rogers administration:

"The Roblin government in Manitoba if not defeated has been shattered. It very much resembled the Ross government in Ontario in its grasping on to power when the people wanted it out of the way for ever. The Roblin government has too long played its peculiar part and it can never now redeem itself. The sooner it goes the sooner will better government come to that province. It would have been wiser for the Borden government to have let it go, not to have tried to delay the going.

"Sir James Whitney was a tower of defence to Ottawa, Sir Rodmond Roblin a mine to progress. The two men are not the same kind of cattle; and the Ontario Conservatives should not be afraid to say so. Whitney could help to carry Borden, but Borden cannot afford to help carry Roblin.

"A real moral issue was presented to the people of Manitoba and they responded to it and have settled it."

While the foregoing undoubtedly sets forth the salient facts, it does not contain all the facts. The Borden government did not realize that the Roblin government, if it ever fulfilled a useful purpose, had outlived the period of its usefulness. Because the government of Sir Robert Borden identified itself strongly with the government of Sir Rodmond Roblin. Three of the ministers in the Borden government fought side by side with the Roblin ministry and used all the influence the Dominion government possessed to secure victory for this government of which the World, a Conservative paper which supports higher protection and the Borden government, says "the sooner it goes the sooner will better government come to that province." Hon. "Bob" Rogers, Sir Robert Borden's Minister of Public Works, conducted the campaign. His was the master hand that directed the operations of the machine. Hon. Arthur Meighen, Sir Robert Borden's Solicitor-General, was the chief speaker for the Roblin government during the fight, and by the violence of his language and the recklessness of his statements in his attempts to secure a victory for the government created antagonisms which will not be forgotten for a long time. Furthermore, the constituency which Mr. Rogers represents in the Dominion house rejected his candidate by nine hundred majority. Consequently there is a significance in the result of the Manitoba elections which is not strictly confined to provincial affairs. The Borden government was quite as strongly identified with the campaign as the Roblin government. Still more than that, although the machine admittedly has been smashed, its manipulators believe it yet can be worked to some purpose. Mr. Roblin's friends look to accounts of the votes to establish them in a stronger position than that to which they have been reduced by the more or less honest votes of the electors. Here is the view of one of them, given in a moment of frankness and candor: "While the judges will no doubt count the ballots more favorably for the Liberals than the returning officers did, it must not be forgotten that we have possession of the ballots until the recounts take place." Counting Liberals out by the mutilation of ballots is not unknown in the history of the career of the Rogers-Roblin regime. Everybody knows what Hon. "Bob" meant when he said: "I know how to win elections."

SIDE-LIGHTS ON MEXICO.

The New York Herald has been casting some interesting side-lights on the Mexican situation by publishing correspondence between a Captain Hopkins, who calls himself consul general of the constitutionalist junta at Washington, Henry Clay Pierce, the oil and railway magnate, and the various prominent figures on the Carranza side, which has mysteriously fallen into its possession.

The publication of this correspondence caused an immense sensation in Washington, for it showed that a pretty intimate relationship existed between the Pierce interests and the constitutionalists which long has been suspected. Mr. Hopkins, however, denies that the constitutionalist movement has received aid from American or European capitalists and declares that Carranza has repeatedly declined offers of loans from foreign sources. He also says that neither Mr. Pierce nor any interest with which he is associated has contributed one cent to the present revolution.

In spite of the disclaimer of Captain Hopkins there can be little doubt that the Pierce interests have strong commercial sympathies with the revolutionist cause. On the other hand, the correspondence shows that the Cowdray syndicate were equally concerned in the welfare of the Huerta administration.

Mexico's troubles are due more than anything else to the meddling of foreign interests, national and commercial. Napoleon III, tried to force an Austrian archduke upon the country, and the unhappy prince was slain. Succeeding governments have played into the hands of outside capitalists, handing over to them the heritage of the people, whose condition they made no attempt to ameliorate. The enormous wealth amassed by Porfirio Diaz, and the several million dollars Huerta is reported to have laid away in the same place, show how profitable the partnership has been. The administration of Mexico in the interests of the Mexican people seems to be the last thing its governments have thought worthy of consideration.

IRELAND AND THE IRISH.

What determined haters they are in Ireland! They have been fighting one battle for two hundred and twenty-four years! And the strife has been transferred to Canada, where the bitter memories of long ago are celebrated annually, chiefly by person who surely might be better employed than in perpetuating the memory of ancient feuds based upon a system whose founder sought to bring "peace on earth and goodwill towards men." It is a somewhat remarkable fact that there is only one city in Canada in which any newspapers bitterly oppose home rule for Ireland. These are Conservative newspapers, of course, and their opposition ostensibly is tinged with imperialism. But there is one Conservative journal in the Ontario capital which differs strongly from its contemporaries on this matter. Discussing the Irish question, under the caption "What It Means For Us," the Toronto World pays the following beautiful tribute to Ireland and the Irish people:

"Ireland, that beautiful green isle in the sounding sea; the home of a people whose faces flash with more of genius, wit, intellect, good nature, than those of any other on the globe; where, if any place, peace and happiness, prosperity and plenty ought to abide; when reconciliation and a common forgiveness seemed to be dawning; that island and those people are again at the verge of civil war, and discord and ill will threaten to wreck her and their fortunes once more.

"Why?
"Is it because of a great misunderstanding?
"The people of Canada ought to pray for the deliverance of those people and for their unity, not for a widening of the great abyss. For if Ireland can not be united, no more can Canada; and that ought to give us pause.

"Is the gospel of brotherhood that Jesus taught in Galilee not to be for our time and our generation? Was it religious strife, racial strife, political strife, that was ever to be the fruit of His teaching?
"Is the crucifixion to be with us for all time?"

BETTER TERMS.

What is the status of the Better Terms question? It is now about eighteen months since commissioners representing the Dominion and province were appointed, ample time in which to dispose of the matter. The last we heard was that the federal government had insisted upon a limitation of the scope of British Columbia's statement of claim and that the provincial case had been amended, while the selection of a chairman had been referred to the Secretary of State for the Colonies.

All this is so much jockeying which would have been used by Sir Richard McBride as the text for numerous sermons on Ottawa's tyranny and obstinacy had a Liberal administration been the other party to the contract. Neither side has the faintest intention of bringing the question to an issue before the next provincial or federal election. If the Dominion won it would make Sir Richard and his Better Terms demands of other days look ridiculous, while if British Columbia obtained concessions, every other province in the confederation would be knocking at the door of Ottawa for similar treatment. The whole cry for Better Terms with the Premier's spectacular pilgrimage to the foot of the throne at the expense of the taxpayers of this province was nothing but a vote-catching device. Evidence of this is furnished by the dilly-dallying, side-stepping and general manoeuvring which have characterized the progress of the matter during the last eighteen months. It will take longer to reach a conclusion on this subject than it has taken the United States government to build the Panama canal.

After reading the Vancouver News-Advertiser's comment on the New Brunswick timber scandal we still are at a loss to know how it regards the practices of the Flemming manipulators. Whether Liberal politicians in that province did or did not resort to similar practices has nothing to do with the case. Such cold-blooded operations as those disclosed in Mr. Teed's evidence are atrocious no matter by whom they are carried out and those involved should be severely dealt with by the electors of the province. Sir Robert Borden should ask to be saved from his political friends. Flemming, Roblin and Rogers are too heavy a load for one political party to carry at one time.

While we permitted our correspondent "Veritas" to reply to statements contained in speeches of Orange orators, the extension of that courtesy did not imply that we would reopen our columns to a controversy which began two hundred and twenty-four years ago and discussion of which age-long experience has proved to be utterly profitless, very often mischievous in its effects. A good many of us must be born again ere we can approach the discussion of that matter in a reasonable spirit. Will correspondents kindly make a note of this and relieve themselves from the throes of futile composition?

A dispatch from Ottawa to the Colonist indicates that the Borden government is taking extraordinary precautions to guard against the loan it is bestowing upon Mackenzie & Mann being expended for other than legitimate railway construction purposes. Sir Robert at last seems to have some suspicions regarding the bona fides of Sir William and Sir Donald. We are surprised that our contemporary should publish anything that may be read as affecting the integrity of its dear friends, the men whom it delights to honor as imbued far beyond the ordinary with public spiritedness and philanthropy.

The morning paper says it doubts if there is a millionaire in the Borden cabinet. From this observation we may conclude that it is ignorant of the personnel of the administration it supports. Messrs. Rogers, Perley and Kemp are known throughout the entire country for their great wealth, while the Tory press itself described Mr. White, Finance Minister, as one of the "eighteen millionaires" who abandoned the Liberal party during the reciprocity campaign. There are at least seven editions of Croesus in Sir Robert's cabinet. Of course, we are not counting honorary members like Sir William Mackenzie and Sir Donald Mann.

All very well for Conservative newspapers to pounce upon Roblin and tell him that he ought to go, but we have not observed that any of them has anything to say about the case of Premier Flemming of New Brunswick, who has been caught at tricks that are coarse and vain compared with the smoothness of the Manitoba machine's operations.

Although the mediation negotiations at Niagara Falls did not settle the Mexican trouble it established a bond of sympathy between Argentina, Brazil and Chili, whom the mediators represent. These three countries have a combined area of 4,700,000 square miles and a population four times as large as that of Canada.

Our Australian cousins seem to be coming rapidly to the front as marksmen with the rifle as well as in other lines of sport. Well, it is all in the family, and, with other nations breaking into the game which hitherto has been reserved almost exclusively for the Anglo-Saxon race, we shall need assistance from everywhere in order to maintain our supremacy.

Did you observe yesterday that while our contemporary contained excellent likenesses of the Attorney-General and Minister of Lands, there seemed to be no room for Sir Richard's picture? Alas! Alas!

The influential interests which backed Huerta will be heavy losers. The new regime will repudiate all obligations. Financing the schemes of "statesmen" in Latin republics is an extra hazardous risk.

LABOR VS. CAPITAL.

Philadelphia Record.
Some profound philosophers are assuring the world that the interests of labor and capital are identical, and some philosophers, who are perhaps even more profound, say that the causes of industrial unrest are very deep, and we do know that they are.
All this is rubbish. There is no need of the services of profound philosophers. Every man is trying to do the best he can for himself. This means that he is trying to acquire as much as possible and to pay out for each object as little as possible. Everybody is looking for an increase of wages or salary, or profits, and everybody is trying to see where he can get his materials, his labor and the articles he needs for the support of his enjoyment on the most advantageous terms—for himself.

CANADA'S WATCHING WAITER.

Montreal Herald-Telegraph.
President Wilson does not do all the "watchful waiting." In Canada Premier Borden is watchfully waiting for the Georgia Bay canal project, over the high cost of living, over his promise to repeal the earlier naval act, over his promise to consult the people on a permanent naval policy, over his promise to take measures to prevent corruption at elections, over his promise to hand over to the prairie provinces the control of their natural resources, over his promise to institute a thorough reform of the civil service, and over the appointment of a high commissioner in London. He is also watchfully waiting for the results of the provincial elections in Manitoba and Ontario.

WHY AUTOISTS ARE HATED.

Montreal Evening News.
Automobile drivers too often imagine that the earth and its fineness is theirs; that the foot passenger, whether at a crossing or elsewhere, is offensively disrupting their full ownership of the highways. Order of the horn is an imperative order to "get out of the way." If the unhappy individual fails to hear or heed, the worse for him.

A term in jail for a few of this type may teach the lesson laid down by the American judge that pedestrians have the right of way at street crossings; that when the crossing is not clear, it is the business of the motor vehicles to stop; that if an accident results from a failure thus to stop, the auto driver will be held to strict account.

A BLUE LOOKOUT.

Chicago Tribune.
Experience counts for little in most trades. What gets consideration from a factory foreman is youth and brawn. The result is that the man of 45 or 50 is dismissed and his place given to one who is younger. Unless, therefore, he has saved a sum fairly sufficient for such a man to live on there is much suffering ahead of him. The savings of $100 or so are sure to be eaten up between periods of unemployment. That it is impossible for many workmen to save much from their wages is unfortunately only too true. This is especially the case where a man tries to give his children an education.

EQUAL RIGHT IN IRISH FIGHT.

Montreal Star.
Everybody hopes there will be no calling of either the Unionist or the Nationalist volunteers into action; but, if there should be, let us be honest enough to admit that the latter have at least as much right to exist as the former. The vital factor in the situation is not "American dollars," but the loyalty of a scattered race to its impoverished country. It has every right to prove that loyalty by giving material assistance to the cause, more especially when the Nationalist volunteers are formed not to resist an act of parliament, but to help enforce one.

Meeting Postponed.—The Elks' lodge meeting called for last evening was postponed to Thursday, July 23, on account of a large number of members visiting Seattle to extend a special invitation to the American Elks to visit the Dominion exhibition on Elks' Day, September 26. The social night will therefore be postponed to Thursday, July 30.

Call to Fort Street.—The fire department was called yesterday to a roof fire at 1505 Fort street. The loss was trifling. In responding to an alarm in James Bay Wednesday evening the hose wagon of No. 1 company came into collision with some sand on the road, and narrowly escaped an accident at the corner of Montreal street and Simcoe street.

Now Up to Strength.—Yesterday the lack of vacancy in Company 1, naval volunteers, was filled and there are now 111 petty officers and men in the company. A waiting list has been opened and there are already a few men on it. Should vacancies arise from any cause they will be filled from this and the others will be held against the formation of a second company here.

Playground Supervisor Leaves.—R. E. Crompton, membership secretary of the Y. M. C. A. and also playground supervisor at the city playground at Beacon Hill park, is to be among the delegates at the Y. M. C. A. training college at Couchiching, near Toronto, where secretaries of Y. M. C. A.'s from all over the continent will gather for training. Mr. Crompton is leaving this week and will return some time early in September.

Gorge Park Dance.—Mrs. Simpson last evening held the third in her series of popular fortnightly private dances at the Gorge park, about 60 couples being present, and an excellent programme of music being provided by Miss Thain's orchestra. The next invitation dance will take place on Thursday, July 30.

Y. M. C. A. Boys' Camp.—The Y. M. C. A. boys' camp at Albert Head broke up yesterday, a number of the lads coming in by the first stage in the morning, while the remainder of the 35, who took every available moment of enjoyment out of the trip, did not return until the last stage back from Metcalson in the evening. The camp has been one of the most successful ever held under the Association auspices, perfect weather marking the entire fortnight and all the diversions, swimming, rowing, climbing, etc., being entered into with the greatest zest. The next expedition will be the houseboat expedition which is to leave Sidney next Monday.

Visited Jordan River.—Expressing pleasure and satisfaction at everything he saw, A. A. Carpenter, chief engineer of construction for the Pan-Pacific exposition, returned Wednesday from a visit in company with the local superintendent of the B. C. E. railway to Jordan River where the construction of the third unit is now in progress. Mr. Carpenter feels a very great and personal interest in the huge plant of the company, in that he was the resident engineer at Jordan River when the project was first begun, only leaving that post to take up his present important appointment.

The first directors are Thomas J. Sullivan, Amos W. Hildreth, Duncan A. McRae, Walton J. Van Houten and Lionel A. Guertin.

Attracted Crowds.—A thoroughly enjoyable offering was presented to the public of Victoria at the Variety theatre last evening, when the Frank Rich company played to two capacity houses in the whirlwind scene, "The Variety Isle." The Sunshine Girls sang and danced with great verve and grace, and were very handsome gowns. "Variety Isle" will be presented again to-night and at a special matinee Saturday afternoon.

New Colonization Organization.—There will be a meeting in Regina on Monday next, July 20, of the provisional committee of the Re-Colonization and Development League of Western Canada. Hon. W. R. Pacific Coast Theological Conference.—The fourth annual Pacific Coast Theological conference will be held at Bellingham, Washington, on the Chautauqua grounds from July 28 to 31. The congress is international in its scope, including British Columbia, Washington and Oregon, and interdenominational in its membership including clergy and ministers of all denominations. An attractive programme has been arranged. Among those who have already promised to speak are the following: Bishop R. J. Cooke, Portland, Ore.; Professor W. R. Wickes, San Jose, Cal.; Dr. M. A. Mathews, W. D. Lane, attorney, and Dr. A. W. Leonard, Seattle; Principals John Mackay and Vance; Dr. P. Proctor, of Vancouver.

Farewell to Teacher.—A large number of the girls of Mrs. William White's Sunday School class at the Emmanuel Baptist church held a picnic at the Willows beach on Tuesday afternoon in her honor. The occasion was not one of unalloyed enjoyment, despite the pleasing arrangements and favoring weather, as the girls gathered to bid farewell to their teacher, who has gone to Vancouver prior to proceeding to Australia to join her husband, who left some weeks ago. Miss Edith Eilers, on behalf of the class, presented a gold pin to Mrs. White, and Rev. William Stevenson, on behalf of the officers and teachers of the Sunday school, presented her with a Bible, both presentations being accompanied with remarks of an appreciative character. Mrs. White and her husband were both much valued for their work in the church and for their winning personalities, and will be much missed.

SUMMER BOOKS

Be sure you are properly supplied with interesting reading matter before you start on your vacation.

A. GROUCH KILLED LAS. EVENING

A. Grouch was killed last evening in the Variety theatre by George A. Burton, and Cash Knight, comedians with the Frank Rich Co.

These people are among the world's greatest fun makers, and if you are suffering from a bad grouch or a fit of the blues, there is no better cure known, than an hour spent in the Variety theatre with the Frank Rich Musical Comedy Co. Come to-night. Come anytime, your case is not too serious for these wonderful mirth-provokers.

Dry-Farming Wheat.—Wheat samples from the dry-farming experimental station at 106-Mile house have been received here and show what a success can be made of dry-farming in this province as elsewhere. The stalks of the grain are three feet in height after a growth of two months, and the grain is headed out fully. Reports from the experimental station in the Nicola, which is situated at Quilchena Commonage, indicate that crops there are well advanced.

Water Board to Meet Here.—There will be a sitting of the water board here on August 25 at the parliament buildings, when the board will take up the claims to water rights or privileges in the matter of all streams in the North Saanich, South Saanich, Highland, Lake, Sooke, Otter, Victoria, Esquimalt, Metchoin, Goldstream and Renfrew land districts, and all streams in the Malahat land district which drain into Juan de Fuca strait or Finlayson arm.

Saanichton Flower Service.—The proposal to hold a flower service in the Saanichton hall in aid of the Jubilee hospital is being seriously considered, and although no date has been definitely fixed as yet Sunday, August 9, has been suggested. Cordial support is hoped for, and a special programme of music will form part of the service, a number of vocalists from Victoria having offered their assistance.

Fort George Hospital.—The provincial secretary was interviewed yesterday afternoon by a deputation from Fort George on the question of aid to the public hospital there. The deputation consisted of Dr. E. Ewing, Dr. Grey and W. E. Playfair, and they laid before the minister the financial situation in regard to the hospital and the demands made upon it since railway construction has been going on. The matter is being discussed by the executive council to-day.

Charge Dismissed.—Accused of soliciting orders from local wholesale establishments without having secured the license necessary under the Provincial License act, George Jones, representative of an old country firm of distillers, appeared before Magistrate Jay, who after hearing the evidence, dismissed the case. W. H. Bullock Webster appeared for the crown, and J. Charles McIntosh defended. Mr. Jones explained that he was merely making a visit of inspection of the firm's agencies, and in any case he made on local houses he was accompanied either by Mr. Duncan or Mr. Gray of the local firm in which they are principals. He was found not guilty and discharged.

Highlanders March Out.—A battalion parade was held by the 59th Highlanders last evening, the regiment marching from the Central School grounds by way of Yates, Cook and Pembroke streets to Central park (North Ward). There they executed several battalion movements and marched past. A similar parade will take place next Thursday evening, through the principal streets of the city. The regiment will be represented at the B. C. R. A. meet on Richmond range next week by the following team: Lieuts. Fred Richardson, F. G. Thomas and P. R. M. Wallis; Staff-Sergeant Tapley, Color-Sergeant W. R. Smith, Sergeants Elliott, G. Cooney, Peacock and El Watson; Privates Wood, David Fyvie, D. Weir, S. S. Hardwick and Burton; Bugler V. Richardson.

Let the Columbia Teach You the Latest Dances

The work that is being done by Mr. G. Hepburn Wilson, M. B., one of New York's leading teachers of dancing and a recognized authority throughout America, in explaining the beauties and technical intricacies of the modern popular dances to Columbia users is winning great attention wherever the Columbia is known.

We have just received in stock a complete line of the new Columbia dance records as supervised and recommended by Mr. Wilson. We also have the new demonstration records, selling at $1.00 each, which teach the different steps of the new dances in such a straightforward easily-understood manner as to render it possible for anyone to pick up a knowledge of how to dance the movements properly in a very short time.

Timber for Sale.—Tenders are being called by the chief forester for the purchase of three timber licenses, to be in the hands of the minister of lands as follows: Before July 24, to cut 499,000 feet of timber on an area adjoining lot 174, on Little Valdes island, one year being allowed for the removal of the timber; before July 29, to cut 200,000 feet of merchantable timber on two separate areas in the vicinity of Deadman river and Hunters creek, Lillooet, two years being given for its removal; before August 20, to cut 2,000,000 feet of timber on an area adjoining lot 174, Little Valdes island, one year being allowed to get it off.

Recorded at Observatory.—Two disturbances were recorded on the seismograph at the observatory on Gonzales hill last evening. At 7.46 p. m. a tremor was felt, the origin of which Mr. Denison says must have been not very far distant. At 11.18 p. m., there was a well-defined quake recorded. The origin seemed to be about 800 miles distant, and Mr. Denison thinks it was probably on the northwest coast of Alaska. The two disturbances are taken to indicate that this coast has been undergoing a strain, which culminated last evening. A number of citizens felt two tremors about 10.30 p. m. yesterday. A rumbling noise preceded the disturbances, which seemed to come from the south, crossing the Strait. These tremors were not recorded on the seismograph, and may have been due to heavy gunfire on the other side.

Garbage System.—Since the city undertook to invade the downtown area and collect garbage in the same way as the private collector had done, complaints have arisen from the men whose business is affected, and one of them, Joseph Smith, has on two occasions written to the council on the matters. In order to give him an opportunity to be heard, the sanitary committee of the city council met this afternoon. An investigation of the garbage stations and plant was recently made by the committee, which reported finding them in good condition. One matter to which the committee's attention had been called was the arrangement made for the dumping of garbage from the scoops. It was alleged that the material is not taken far enough out to prevent it drifting back with the tide. Since the transfer of the garbage collection work 18 months ago to the engineering department it has been found that the cost of handling garbage has been kept within the estimates, Victoria comparing favorably with other cities.

Objections to the establishment of pound districts at Narmanata, in the Okanagan, and at Perry's Siding and Appledale, in the Sicoma, having been filed by the requisite number of proprietors, notification is given to the majority of the proprietors by the minister of agriculture that they must file within thirty days the petition called for in the Pound District act. The notice in each case, published in the B. C. Gazette this week, is dated June 27, and the time for filing the petition expires on Monday week.

Hookem Singh Sued by Lawyer.—Hookem Singh, who has been carrying on a wood business in this city for some months, has left and his present whereabouts are not definitely known. Arthur J. Patton, the lawyer, is plaintiff in a county court action against him, for professional services and money loaned. This morning, in county court chambers, W. R. Vaughan applied for leave to substitute service of the summons in the case, and submitted an affidavit from Mr. Patton to the effect that Hookem had left for parts unknown, and that he was believed to have made an assignment of all his property here to J. H. Moore, of the Canadian Puget Sound Lumber company, which was not an assignment for the benefit of his creditors. Service on the defendant at the office of Mr. Moore was ordered.

Marconi's Engineer Perfecting Invention; Gives Bearings of Vessels Nearby

Quebec, July 17.—When the Royal mail steamer Royal George arrived at Quebec on her last trip, there was one passenger on board who was well pleased with himself. He was Ingo Emile Ichino, engineer of the Marconi Wireless Telegraph company, London, who was making the trip in order to test a new invention which promises to be of immense value to the ocean greyhounds that plough their way across the Atlantic, and he was pleased because the tests he had made during the six-day voyage had proved a great success.

Mr. Ichino and Captain F. J. Thompson, R. N. I., were warm in their appreciation of the value of this new wonder of wireless. A press representative was taken to the little temporary cabin on the boat deck, in which was housed the valuable apparatus, and there, with the telephonic transmitter at his ears, he made a practical test of how the invention works.

Its name is the Marconi-Bellini-Tosi system, and to outward appearance the apparatus consists of a square black box, with an aerial tower on the front and a complete compass diagram, showing the 360 degrees, with a large pointer surmounting it, behind. By the side is a host of wires and switches, and when the current is turned on there is a sustained note which varies in intensity as the pointer is turned round to the various points of the compass.

Gives Bearing of Ships. The invention is designed with the object of telling the man in charge of the instrument the bearing of any ship or wireless station within a range of 70 miles. This result is achieved by the apparently simple process of turning the pointer round until the point is reached where the sound or signal is strongest.

When this point is reached the bearing of the signalling station or ship is indicated by the compass, and the captain is able to tell exactly his distance from it and the direction of it, no matter what the state of the weather.

"This is the first time the instrument has been tested on a trans-Atlantic liner," said Mr. Ichino. "It was previously tested on the steamer Eskimo, trading between Hull and Christiansa, and we were able to steer the vessel in thick fog, not only into the port, but into the fjords as well, by its aid."

Capt. Thompson, in his chart room, showed a chart in which the experi-

Esquimalt harbor is a very busy place these days. A big gang of workmen are employed on the American-Hawaiian freighter Nevada, which is in drydock, and the seamen on the cruiser Rainbow are running out coal from the sheds and filling the bunkers of the ship. As soon as she has all her fuel aboard it is expected that the Nevada will be ready to come out of dock. On the same tide as that on which the freighter floats out the Rainbow will go in. It is not known at present how long the cruiser will remain on the blocks, but it is understood some repairs will be made besides the cleaning and painting of her hull.

CLEAR HONOLULU AND IS DUE HERE THURSDAY

CABLE-SHIP IRIS

CABLE-SHIP CLEARS HONOLULU FOR HERE

Reported Steaming Last Tuesday and Will Arrive Victoria Next Thursday

Cablegrams received from Honolulu announce the sailing from that port at 2 o'clock last Tuesday afternoon of the cable ship Iris, which is en route from the Antipodes to Victoria to do some cable work in connection with the wire which crosses the Pacific from Banfield to Suva. The Iris jogs along at a fair speed and is looked for here about next Thursday, although if weather conditions are favorable she may reach William Head the previous afternoon. After passing quarantine it is understood that she will make for Esquimalt harbor and tie up to one of the buoys.

It is understood that she will start to lay a second cable from Banfield to Port Alberni. The landmen will carry the line across the island to Parksville. At this point the Iris will again start to drop a cable, running it to Vancouver. The work will not take long and as soon as completed the ship will return to the south.

Was Here Ten Years Ago. The Iris visited Victoria about ten years ago to do some cable work. She is a trim vessel and looks a little like the cableship Restorer, which makes Esquimalt her home port, and where she lies most of the time. Shipping men recall that the Iris strung a cable from Pedder Bay across the strait to Port Alberni.

Some time ago a report was in circulation to the effect that the Pacific cable board would have the steamship Iris stationed at Esquimalt, and when the news was received that she had been dispatched from the Antipodes for Victoria it was surmised that she was coming here for that purpose. But according to the latest advice she will return to southern waters as soon as she has completed the work assigned to her in the North Pacific.

WHALE STOPS A DANCE

Portland, July 17.—How a whale broke up a dance, in what is believed to be the first incident of the sort on record, is related by Captain O. P. Rankin, master of the steamship Rose City, of the Big Three fleet, now in port. It was while the craft was bowling up the coast from San Francisco, a few hours before she reached the Columbia river the day broke fair and fine. Scarcely a ripple was on the sea. The conditions were so perfect that a large number of the passengers assembled at once on the upper deck, which they cleared for dancing. Tango, waltz and other tunes were furnished by several musicians who were aboard. When the tango music was playing at its height and joy reigned supreme among the merry-makers a strange sound was borne in upon their ears. A couple tangoing paused to listen. The noise seemed to grow more distinct, but some one shouted: "On with the dance! Let joy be unconfined!" But the more timid of the gay party refused to shake their feet when a sharp snort penetrated the air and a commotion was heard in the water. Looking over the side of the liner they were amazed to see a mighty whale sporting about, blowing and trying to imitate the action of the dancers. It is declared that the whale tangoed back and forth in the neighborhood of the steamship for several minutes. Of course, the passengers forgot all about dancing the tango, devoting their whole attention to the leviathan until the Rose City ran away from him.

LUMBER FOR GRACE BOATS

Seattle, July 17.—The Kosmos liner Setos on Wednesday was turned over to W. R. Grace & Co., who have chartered her to carry lumber to Australia, and immediately will begin taking on cargo. She will load 3,600,000 feet at Everett, Mukilteo and Bellingham, sailing from the latter port for Sydney July 25. Grace & Co. also have a lumber cargo for the steamship Strathesk, which is due at Vancouver July 25 with a full cargo of sugar from Cuba. She will take bunkers at Nausaimo and return to the Sound to load 3,700,000 feet for Australia. This cargo will be loaded at Mukilteo and Port Angeles.

CANNERY TENDER ADRIFF PICKED UP BY HUMBOLDT

Seattle, July 17.—Capt. E. G. Baughman, master of the steamer Humboldt, of the Humboldt Steamship company, in wireless dispatches received in Seattle yesterday stated that he picked up the cannery tender B. C. T. at 5.40 o'clock on Wednesday afternoon in distress off Helmsken island. The vessel had a broken tail shaft and was in a helpless condition. Capt. Baughman towed her to Alert Bay. A strong northwest wind was blowing and had not the Humboldt sighted the little vessel and gone to her assistance she would probably have been driven ashore and lost. The B. C. T. is owned by the British Columbia Packers' association of Vancouver, B. C.

KNIGHT TO LOAD LUMBER

Seattle, July 17.—Five million feet of lumber will be taken from Portland to Shanghai by the British steamship Knight of the Thistle, which has just been chartered by the China Import & Export Lumber company. She is of practically the same size as the Knight of the Garter, which loaded 5,000,000 feet of lumber at Portland two years ago, which up to that time was the largest cargo of the sort ever set afloat in the world. The Knight of the Thistle is of 4,286 tons net register. She will arrive the latter part of July. The steamship sailed from Newcastle, N. S. W., for Valparaiso July 16.

Two other lumber carriers, the Japanese steamships Shinkai Maru and Kenkon Maru No. 8, under charter to the same company, will arrive at Portland July 25 and July 31, respectively, if they show up on schedule.

The time used is Pacific Standard, for the 18th Meridian west. It is computed from 4 to 24 hours, from midnight to midnight. The figures for height serve to distinguish high water from low water. Where blanks occur in the tables, the tide rises or falls continuously during two successive tidal periods without turning.

Requital.—To find the depth of water on the sill of the dry dock at any time, add 2.6 feet to the height of high water as above given. Tidal differences for Fuca and Haro Straits are given in the foregoing list.

The Political Situation

BY ARTHUR SCAIFE, J. P.

London, July 4.—A wild rumor was current amongst the Unionists in the lobby, early in the week, to the effect that under pressure from "an exalted quarter" the government and the opposition leaders had agreed to settle the home rule controversy, if necessary, over the heads of the two Irish parties. It originated in nothing more substantial than the fact that the premier and the leader of the opposition happened to leave the chamber about the same time after the vote of confidence with the Austrian nation on the assassination of Archduke Ferdinand and his consort. This is a typical illustration of the kind of basis which exists for some of the reports that find their way into the Unionist press. There was, of course, not the remotest shadow of foundation for the story. In point of fact most of the leading members of the Unionist party neither expect nor desire a settlement. On the contrary, their prognostications of the developments of the situation are as follows: The amendment bill is doomed to an ignominious death on its return from the Commons with the Lords' amendments rejected. The Home Rule bill will then become law as it stands, and will be followed by a general election in September, that being the only condition on which the king will consent to give his signature to the measure. The confidence with which they ascribe this intention to his majesty is quite remarkable, and would be entitled to serious consideration were it not remembered that precisely the same kind of language was indulged in at the time of the passing of the Parliament act. But that members of the opposition entertain the belief admits of very little doubt, and goes far to explain their determination to prevent any settlement of the question.

The further rearrangement of the government's financial business, by which the grants-in-aid clauses are to be transferred from the finance to the revenue bill is a clever stroke, not the least amongst its advantages being that it reduces the chance of the Lords interfering with the latter measure to a minimum. While the peers might have been strongly disposed to destroy it in its original form, they will be very chary about adopting such a course when, by so doing, they would be depriving the local authorities of the much-needed grants for which they have been clamoring for years. It is not expected, however, that the rearrangement will in any way curtail the debates on either measure, which, it is clear, the Unionists intend to drag out to the crack of doom. The provisions of both afford rich ground for discussion, and the question seems to be shaping itself whether "the government will" decide between applying the closure or carrying the session into September, assuming that they adhere to their determination to have no autumn session. Hitherto the Liberals have refrained from closing debates on any of their big budgets—it was not done even in 1909—and they are, naturally, reluctant to do so now. But the only alternative seems to be a number of all-night sittings and the extension of the session.

the Weather.

After grumbling at the cold weather during May and early part of June, Londoners have now got a heat wave with a vengeance. It has been almost overpoweringly hot during the past few days, and the thermometer has touched 86 in the shade, whilst it was 125 in the sun. The atmosphere, moreover, is humid and enervating in the extreme, and it is not surprising that several deaths from apoplexy and heart-failure have been reported. The abnormal number of traffic accidents which have recently occurred are attributed to the continued exposure of the drivers of motor busses and cars to the blinding rays of the sun. To get cool anywhere in London seemed an impossibility. Even on the embankment there was no breeze, and the Thames looked like a stream of molten lead which pained the eye to gaze upon. In the courts the barristers threw off their wigs, and in the committees of the House of Commons members unconcernedly took off their coats and their business in their shirt sleeves. Nightfall brought little relief, and there is every indication that the broiling heat will continue for some time to come.

A current picture of the lobby shows more than one M. P. in a straw hat. This would have provoked yards of indignation in leading articles fifteen years ago. But parliamentary costume is no longer a matter of strict etiquette. Old hands in the house can recall memories of a bygone summer when one of the Rothschilds took his place under the eye of the speaker wearing a tall hat made of straw. Whether he was evading the law of costume or was legitimately compounding with it was a point agitated for days in the smokers. Even the billy-cock hat, once an atrocity, is not out of place at Westminster now. Mr. Joseph Cowen put forward the claim that he was the first member who had the temerity to wear an ordinary round felt hat in the house, a practice that has since grown usual. Returning, however, to the straw hat, it is believed that a Nationalist was its parliamentary god-father. The sight offended Mr. Gladstone, and at his suggestion the then Sir Charles Russell crossed over to the innovator and asked him to "take away that bauble," a request that was not complied with. A parliamentary journalist, Mr. Jenks, has related that dress was very formal in the press gallery in those days, and when an unconventional pressman put in an appearance in a check suit one morning he received a notification from the sergeant-at-arms that he was not to appear in it again.

Treasury Return for the First Quarter

The treasury issued this week the usual return showing the receipts into the exchequer and the total expenditure chargeable against revenue for the three months, April 1 to June 30, being the first quarter of the current financial year. It shows a total revenue for the quarter of £40,500,677, against £39,480,892, the revenue in the corresponding period last year, a net increase of £1,019,785. The expenditure chargeable against revenue for the quarter just closed is £46,619,660 compared with £44,101,573 a year ago, an increase of £2,515,087. The country is certainly going to the dogs! There's no money! But somehow it manages to find its way into the exchequer all the same.

Austria-Hungary.

Now that the first shock of the Sarajevo tragedy is past, the whole continental press is canvassing its probable consequences in Austro-Hungarian affairs and their reaction upon European relations. Its comments are curiously diverse and contradictory. The fact is that the death of the Archduke Francis Ferdinand has removed a cardinal postulate of European diplomacy, and it must be some time before the revision of all the delicate adjustments dependent on it can be undertaken. It is true, no doubt, that no one man determines the policy of a great empire, but personal sovereignty is more effective in Austria-Hungary than, perhaps, in any other European country except Germany, and the late heir to the throne was a man of singularly powerful individuality. The larger features of his policy were known and could be taken into account. He had already developed them in his lifetime, and it was reasonable to expect that he would prosecute them further on the same lines when he came to the throne. Since Austria-Hungary is the dominant factor in the eastern European situation, it followed that the eastern policy of the other members of the triple alliance, particularly Germany, and to a less degree that of the triple entente, depended largely on the known aims of Francis Ferdinand, i. e., the extension of the Austrian empire towards the east. He aspired to make Austrian influence hold a certain balance between Germany—which Austrians have never forgiven for the humiliation of Sadowa—and Russia, whose eastern proclivities threatened to limit Austrian expansion. Now that his calculable influence is removed, the schemes associated with his expected succession largely collapse. In a variety of ways his death must alter the outlook of international affairs, and import a disturbing influence into the uneasy equilibrium of Europe.

A story illustrative of the late archduke's uncompromising loyalty to his wife is told by the Pall Mall Gazette. After his marriage he persisted in entering the palace by the back entrance because the reserved front staircase was, on state occasions, inaccessible to his wife. Finally, the rule was rescinded by the emperor in order to avoid the scandal of the heir apparent's ostentatious drive round to the back door, even when unaccompanied by his wife, to make his entrance by the gate reserved for commoners.

HOUSEHOLD LEAGUE'S OBJECTS.

To the Editor.—Will you kindly allow me space in your valuable columns to appeal to the public at large to support the newly-formed Household League. Its aim is to reduce the cost of living, and those who are indifferent to the high prices asked for necessities should support the movement on account of others who are less fortunately situated.

To avoid misunderstanding we wish it known that the Household League does not aim to take away anyone's legitimate profits, but rather to arrange such co-operation between households and merchants that the financial burdens of both may be considerably lightened. We urge all shoppers by being systematic to reduce the number of the deliveries of dry groceries, and instead of telephoning one, two or three times a day, to make two-weekly orders cover everything needed. If this one reform were carried out, it would greatly lessen the retailers' work and expenses, and they could afford to sell their goods for less.

We strongly urge that cash payments be made when possible; the next best thing is to make prompt monthly settlements. It has been said that if everyone owing money in Victoria were to pay it, there would be no hard times here.

We believe in giving preference to goods made locally, for what helps one helps us all. It has been stated that 128 articles of food are now made in Victoria, and we intend supplying each member of our league with a list of such articles so that each may patronize them.

Some people are greatly opposed to the introduction here of copper coinage, and while the introduction of copper coinage is only one plank in our platform (and not the chief aim of the league as some imagine), we think a little consideration will show how reasonable is the position we take, that the coin of the realm should be accepted. For instance, a poor woman goes to buy a single loaf of bread, the price of which is six cents, but she is obliged to pay ten cents for one loaf, a profit over and above the legitimate profit of 66 2/3 per cent. The extra four cents might have provided milk or sugar, but because she was obliged to buy in small quantities she must pay two-thirds more than the regular price. The use of the copper coinage in Winnipeg did not bring down wages—on the contrary they have risen steadily ever since, while food has become cheaper.

The establishment of a public market where producer can sell direct to the consumer is another aim of the league, and we should like to enrol as members all those who have country produce to sell.

Household leagues have been very successful in many cities—Ottawa, Toronto, Hamilton, Calgary, etc.—in bringing down the cost of living, and we therefore ask the co-operation and sympathy of the public generally in this undertaking. With its support we hope to accomplish measures that will benefit all and injure no one, and take from Victoria the name she bears of being a very expensive city to live in. In order to enrol many members the fee has been made very little—only 25 cents for active members, while associate members pay $1 each. We earnestly hope that every housekeeper in the city will join with us in this movement, as it is only a large membership that can do effective work.

Those desirous of joining the Victoria Household League might kindly send their names and the fee to any of the following members of the committee: Messdames Poulkes, Hamilton, D. Harris, Cancellor, Gilbert, Graves, Barton, Mr. Blair (Cut Rate Grocery) has kindly offered to open a membership list in his store. Thanking you for this, I am, truly yours,

W. FOULKES,
Pres. Housewives' League.

IRELAND AND THE IRISH.

To the Editor.—Truly we live in a strange world, a world of eccentricities. History tells us that many years ago British statesmen or empire builders of the day denied the Pilgrim fathers who landed on America's shores the right to govern themselves or make their own laws. Subsequent events proved that they were unwise empire builders. On the eve of the 12th of July a very large procession of men—will I call them eccentricities?—marched through our streets. They had badges and banners and bands, and their cry was "Ireland must not have home rule." Later on they were addressed by great orators and empire builders, who also told them "Ireland must not have home rule." Now to me the strange part of it is this: It is safe to say that not 10 or 15 per cent. at the very most of that strange procession ever saw Ireland, and it is also safe to say that a very large number of them, were they asked to do it, could not place their finger on Ireland's map on the school room chart, and these are the people who say that Ireland must not have home rule. John Redmond, Ireland's future premier, says it is not the Irish that are now opposing home rule. It is the outsiders. I was born and lived with the Irish till I was 23 years old. I know their character well. They are not intolerant, they love fun, and it affords us a vast amount of amusement to hear people hollering themselves hoarse that Ireland must not have home rule. Mr. Editor, will you kindly tell those people whose minds fail to grasp the fact that Ireland already has home rule. It has been passed by the British parliament; all it needs now is a few finishing touches and the king's signature. Will you also tell them that it is King George's wish, as it was of his father before him, that Ireland might have home rule. The Royal Irish Constabulary, one of the most efficient and intelligent part of the king's armed forces, have the warring factions of Ulster at their celebration the other day to behave themselves. They did. And I saw a dispatch to your paper

CARPENTIER NOW AFTER JACK JOHNSON

BOMBARDIER WELLS WANTS TITLE BOUT

Defeat of Smith Gives Frenchman White Championship of the World; Story of the Foul; Big Crowd Saw Bout

A match between Jack Johnson and Georges Carpentier for the heavy-weight championship of the world is now in order. The disqualifying of Gunboat Smith in yesterday's bout at London before the National Sporting club, means that the Frenchman will now have to live up to his promise to meet Johnson this fall. Bombardier Wells, the British title-holder, issued a challenge to the winner before the fight yesterday, but as Carpentier already has two knockouts to his credit over the Briton, a match between the pair would not draw a big enough house to make it worth while.

Carpentier's victory gives him a decided claim upon the white heavy-weight championship of the world. There will be those who will say that he won the honors because of an accident, but the records of the five rounds preceding the foul indicate that the husky young Frenchman had a lead on Smith when the fatal blow was handed out.

The match between the two was fought at Olympia and was scheduled to go twenty rounds. To Smith and his supporters the finish was a tragedy, because the blow for which the American was disqualified was neither studied nor intentional. It was launched in the heat of the whirlwind fighting, when the Frenchman had slipped to his knees and the spectators saw the gaunt sailor reel and attempt to draw back almost as his arm flew out.

Just what happened to "Gunboat's" right is likely to be an everlasting cause of controversy. The men nearest the ring disagree widely. Some say that it jolted Carpentier's spine hard at the back of the neck. Some say it grazed the neck, and others say it missed entirely.

The Frenchman's manager, Desamps, climbed through the ropes, with seconds following, and picked up the fighter, who was holding his head in a dramatic manner with both hands. French and American camp followers poured into the ring and surrounded the referee, Eugene Corri. Shouts of "Foul, foul" were raised. Everybody talked to the referee at once, and the referee pointed to Carpentier, indicating that the Frenchman was the winner.

Between 12,000 and 13,000 persons witnessed the fight, among them 500 women.

Milwaukee, Wis., July 17.—It has been announced here that Johnny Griffiths, the star lightweight, and Gips Christie, who has met a host of top-notch middleweights, have signed with "Snowy" Baker for an Australian tour. They will leave here on August 4.

London, July 17.—"Gunboat" Smith and his manager, "Jim" Buckley, said to-day that they intended to make a further effort to arrange a return match with Georges Carpentier, the French heavyweight, who yesterday was awarded the decision at Olympia when Smith was disqualified in the sixth round for hitting the Frenchman while he was on the floor. The American boxer declared he was willing to meet the Frenchman anywhere and at any time and would prefer that the winner should take the entire purse or gate money.

"If Smith wants a return match right away he is not going to encounter the slightest difficulty," said Carpentier's manager later in the day. "It is Carpentier's wish, as it is my own, that the white champion of the world should retain the championship not by a mere fluke or disqualification, but by right of superiority in boxing."

Smith's manager has also appealed against Referee Corri's decision.

DOUBLE DEFEAT AT VANCOUVER YESTERDAY

Steele and Smith Unable to Hold Beavers; Spokane Also Beaten

Vancouver, July 17.—Bob Brown's Beavers advanced to within a single point of first place in the Northwestern league yesterday when they treated the Victoria club to a double defeat. Bobby Steele lost the first game 5 to 3, and in the second combat, Slim Smith was beaten 5 to 2. The Victoria batsmen were completely taken by the bewildering shots of Fork Ball Hall and Young Harstad, while the home club took a strong liking to the offerings of Steele and Smith. The victory made it necessary for Victoria to win all the remaining games to break even on the series.

Brown has Reuther, Hunt and Doty for these games, while Delmas will be forced to use Driscoll, McHenry and Pope, so that the Beavers have an edge on the pitching material for the remaining games.

In the first game Vancouver started off strongly on Bobby Steele, standing the young left-hander on his head by the fierce attack. The Beavers secured five runs in the first two innings, and with such a lead Hall was able to hold the Bees to three runs. The Bees had several fine chances to break up the game, but they could not locate Hall in the pinches. Victoria collected but four hits to the eight clouted out by Vancouver, the Beavers getting a couple that were good for extra bases.

Harstad was a puzzle in the second game while Slim Smith was hit all over the lot. Vancouver's youthful slab-artist fanned eleven of the Victoria club and was never in danger, holding the Bees to a single counter. George Kelly was the hitting leader of the day, getting three bingles, while Wotell and McCarl drew down four apiece in the two encounters.

Chicago, July 17.—The Appellate court of Illinois came to the rescue of the Federal Baseball league yesterday, and entered an order relieving George Johnson, former pitcher for the Cincinnati National club from the legal ban which prevented his playing with the Kansas City Federals. In announcing the ruling the judges did not discuss the ten-day clause of the contract between Johnson and the National league, but contented themselves with an order reversing the decree of Judge Foell of the Superior court and remanding the case with instructions that the injunction be dissolved.

Seattle, July 17.—Timely hitting coupled with Spokane's errors, enabled Seattle to turn the tables on the visitors and win 3-0.

Score— R. H. E.
Seattle 3 3 1
Spokane 0 0 2
Batteries—Kelly and Cadman; Covaleskie and Shea.

Tacoma, July 17.—Tacoma came from behind and tied the score in the ninth inning. In the thirteenth, Portland forged one run ahead, but again in their half of the inning, the locals equalized the score. A single by Brottem, a sacrifice by Stokke, Frambach's wild pitch and a pinch hit by West gave Tacoma the winning in the fourth.

Score— R. H. E.
Tacoma 5 19 2
Portland 5 16 3
Batteries—Kaufman and Stevens, Brottem; Eastley, Frambach and Harworth.

VISITING JAPANESE WIN TWO CONTESTS

Clothiers' Errors Hand Game to Meeji Nine; Nippons Also Beaten

The Clothiers booted away a game to the touring Meeji nine at the Royal Athletic park yesterday afternoon in the first two innings when they presented the Japanese club with nine runs on a couple of hits. The final count was 14 to 10 in ten innings, but the local team should have had the game packed away in the regular nine-session battle. Geo. Stralith and Yummy McGregor held the visitors to four hits, while the Clothiers hit the ball for no less than sixteen safeties. Poor base-running and the snappy fielding of the Meeji nine cut off a number of runs, the Clothiers putting up a poor exhibition in the field to start with, and they tossed the games away in the tenth with another wild exhibition of ball handling.

The visitors presented a fine lineup and they held in major league style. They made a couple of snappy double plays and counted a number of runs simply because of their daring base-running. They took advantage of every mistake of the Clothiers and got away to such a running start that it was a hard job for the Clothiers to overhaul them. The losers, once they settled down, outplayed the Japanese nine, McGregor and Gravelin featuring with their brilliant handling of the ball, while Patrick's work at first was of the highest order. Stralith pitched excellent ball until removed in the ninth to make way for a pinch-hitter. McGregor's homer in the ninth with Moore on second, featured the game.

With the score tied in the tenth, McGregor's support blew in, a safe bunt, a stolen base and McGregor's wild heave to first putting the game on ice. The visitors were forced to use two twirlers, Osawa being batted from the box in the third when five singles counted six runs for the Clothiers. Nakamura, the Japanese Mathewson, finished the game in splendid style.

After winning the extra inning count, the Meeji nine trimmed the Victoria Nippons 11 to 1, the invaders being much too strong for the locals. Walter Lorimer handled this game and Dr. Proctor appeared in the official capacity for the Clothier-Meeji encounter.

CRICKET FEATURES FOR THE WEEK-END

Victoria Plays Cowichan at Duncan; Standing of Isl- and League Clubs

Two of the most important cricket matches of the year are scheduled for to-morrow. Victoria plays Cowichan at Duncan and Civil Service and Oak Bay clash in the second division games. All four of these clubs are the leaders in their respective divisions, and the cricket followers of the capital will be able to witness some of the finest bowling and batting of the year. The Cowichan club is particularly anxious to defeat the Victoria eleven, as a win for the local club will give it a good grasp upon the Island league championship. In Division B the Civil Service men have an unbroken string of victories with Oak Bay right on their heels. A win for the Oaks will make this series all the closer, though the experts are calling the Civil Service cricketers to win because of their greater all-round form.

Another splendid match will be that between the Nanaimo and University Incogs at University school grounds. The Coal City cricketers captured a win last week at Beacon Hill, and they are confident of repeating at the expense of the Incognitos. Victoria and Men's Own will play at the Jubilee hospital grounds in the morning. An eleven match, with the Restorer and Albion eleven playing at Macaulay Point. The complete schedule for to-morrow is as follows:

A Albion v. Garrison, Beacon Hill.
A Cowichan v. Victoria, Duncan.
A Incogs v. Nanaimo, University school.

B Victoria v. Men's Own, Jubilee hospital.
B Civil Service v. Oak Bay Park.
B Restorer v. Albion, Macaulay.
An exhibition match between teams captained by Crawford Coates and Arthur Coles will take place on Wednesday afternoon next at the hospital grounds. The game will start at 2 o'clock. The sides will not be limited to eleven men, and any cricketers desiring to take part in the match are requested to send in their names to Mr. Coates at 25 Winch building.

CANADIAN YACHT BEATEN AT SEATTLE

Seattle, Wash., July 17.—The American yacht Sir Tom, Captain Ted Geary, of the Seattle Yacht club, yesterday won the first of a series of three races for a trophy cup presented to the Seattle Yacht club by Sir Thomas Lipton, defeating the Canadian entry, the Turenga, of the Royal Vancouver Yacht club, by 12 minutes and 39 seconds.

The race was Sir Tom's all the way, the American gaining space on every leg of the twelve-mile triangular course. From the start the American yacht showed her speed, gradually dropping the Turenga behind. The races, which are the principal events in the aquatic programme of the Seattle Rotach festival, are for yachts of not more than forty feet. The second race was set for to-day.

The social conscience of woman has been awakened, and she should be given an equal chance with man to serve the community.—Duchess of Marlborough.

TO-DAY IN PUGILISTIC ANNALS

1886.—Paddy Lavin, the middleweight boxer, born at Athey, in County Kildare, Ireland. His parents bore the name of Stynes, and he was christened Patrick, but on entering the ring ten years ago he adopted the professional name of Lavin. Paddy did most of his early fighting in Buffalo, and in 1910 he began to get bouts with the top-notchers among the welterweights. In that year he fought two draws with Jimmy Clabby, two with Dick Nelson and two with Mike (Twin) Sullivan, and his prowess began to be noised about. In 1911 he fought a draw with Buck Cruise at Akron, and also got draws with Hilliard Lang at Hamilton, Ont., Henry Melody at Buffalo and Jack Dillon at Indianapolis. In 1912 Lavin was knocked out by George Chip in the seventh round at Youngstown. He defeated veteran Willie Lewis at Cleveland, and then came to the Pacific coast, where he caught a Tartar in Bob McAllister, by whom he was whipped in four rounds. Last December Lavin was knocked out by Mike (Twin) Sullivan at Dover, N. H. 1883.—Kid Taylor, Bohemian featherweight, born at Chicago.

AUSTRALIA WINNER OF MACKINNON CUP

Highest Score at 1,000 Yards
Gives Team Trophy for Second Year

Bisley Camp, July 17.—The Australians, by making the highest score at the 1,000-yard range, came out winners yesterday in the Mackinnon Challenge cup match, open to teams of 12, representing constituent units of the empire, conditions being service rifle, fifteen shots per man at 900 and 1,000 yards. They had an aggregate of 1,531 at the two ranges, England also having a similar aggregate, but by phenomenal firing at the long range, the Australians secured the trophy and left England in second place.

This is the second year in succession that Australia has carried off the Mackinnon, winning with an aggregate of 1,534 last year, or three more points than this year's total. Canada repeated her performance of last year by finishing in fourth place, but made 28 points more this year than last, having an aggregate of 1,487 against 1,450 last year. The Australians received hearty congratulations on this, their second victory, from the other units as well as various prominent marksmen at the meeting.

Scores of Units.

The scores of the units at the 900 and 1,000-yard ranges, together with their aggregates, are as follows:

Teams.	900	1,000	Aggr.
Australia	786	745	1,531
England	791	740	1,531

Ireland	742	727	1,469
India	719	687	1,406
Guernsey	694	676	1,370

There was excellent weather for the shooting, but the wind and light caused considerable perplexity.

Following are the individual Canadian scores in the Mackinnon cup, fifteen shots each at 900 and 1,000 yards:

1000	900	Total
Lieut. Bennett, 63rd Regt., Halifax	62	63

Sgt. McKie, 30th Rgt., Guelph	70	62
Staff Sgt. Laman, 1st C.G.A., Halifax	64	64
Sgt. Armstrong, 66th Rgt., Halifax	68	57
Totals	743	744

The Ashburton shield, shot for annually by the British public schools since 1861, for teams of eight, seven shots each, at 200 and 500 yards, was won by Sedburgh, each member also receiving a silver medal from the N.R.A. Eton was second, each winning bronze medals, and Harrow next best, each receiving a small bronze medal.

The Shender cup, open to one member from each of the teams that shoot in the Ashburton shield, being seven shots at 500 yards, was won by Cadet Baker, of Sherborne.

The Cadets' challenge trophy, seven shots at 200 and 500 yards, open to one team of two members from each school contingent, was won by Lancing school, each member receiving a silver medal from the N.R.A. The Public Schools' Veterans' challenge trophy, ten shots at 600 yards, was won by Oundle.

In the 200-yard sweepstakes, Corporal Rea, of the 3rd Victoria Rifles, Montreal, was first with 48, and in the 500-yard sweepstakes, he also secured first place with a total of 55. Lieutenant G. W. McLean, 78th Regiment, Hopewell, N. S., won the 900-yard sweepstakes with 59. In the 1,000-yard sweepstakes, Lieutenant Bennett, 63rd Regiment, Halifax, was third with 25.

Quebec was dropped from the Big Four because the crowds would not turn out for the games.

REMARKED ON THE SIDE

Giants Excel in a Close Series.

One reason why the New York National league club is out in front of the remaining seven teams in that organization is because of the wonderful manner in which McGraw's men tighten up when the leadership is at stake. They made a clean sweep of the recent Cincinnati series at New York when the Reds could have gone to the front by taking all four games. This week at Chicago, the Giants were slipping and would have been ousted from the leadership but for the fact that McGraw marshalled his forces and braced, taking two of the four games from the Windy City club. The Gothamites are not travelling at the same speed as they were a month ago, but McGraw's reserve strength has never yet failed to respond to the call when needed.

Victoria Will Make Only One Change.

Manager Poulin looks for a win for the Victoria club at Westminster to-morrow, when the amateur twelve clashes with the junior Salmon Jellies. Poulin states that his team is much stronger on the defence than two weeks ago when the Islanders were swamped, and his home has been strengthened by the addition of Allie McGregor and "Sugar" McDougall. The latter was going along finely at Winnipeg and he will be in the best of shape when the locals step on the field at Westminster. Jerry Clute would have strengthened the attack, but his lack of condition made it impossible for him to get back into the game.

and Mrs. Nell Mackinnon, of Bradford, Isle of Skye, and Alexander Mackinnon, engineer in the Victoria fire department. The bride, who was given away by Donald Macnab, looked very handsome in a gown of white satin, Miss Margaret Macpherson, of Benbecula, Invernesshire, acting as her bridesmaid. Donald Mackinnon, of the E. C. coast service, acted as best man. The wedding was of peculiar interest, both the principals, the officiating minister, the best man, and a large number of the guests being natives of Skye. After the ceremony a sumptuous supper was served, at which all the guests were entertained. After the honeymoon, which is being spent in a tour along the Pacific coast, Mr. and Mrs. Mackinnon will take up their new home at 830 Princess avenue.

Rev. J. W. Flinton, vicar of St. Mark's church, Victoria, officiated at a very pretty wedding which took place at 2.30 on Wednesday in St. Andrew's church, Sidney, when Neva Pearl, eldest daughter of Mr. and Mrs. J. L. Harrison, and Bedford Roy Brothour, second son of Henry Brothour, were united in marriage. The church had been effectively decorated by the friends of the bride and bridegroom with white lilies, shasta daisies, and clematis, and the choir was in attendance and sang "The Voice That Breathed Over Eden," while the bride, leaning on her father's arm, passed down the aisle to the chancel steps. She was beautifully gowned in champagne satin trimmed with pearls and orange blossoms, and wore a veil of embroidered tulle arranged under a chapel of the traditional bridal flower, while her shawl bouquet was composed of shasta daisies. Miss Gertrude Harrison, a sister of the bride, picturesquely dressed in white silk with sash of pink and a lace hat, acted as maid-of-honor. She carried a bouquet of pink sweet peas, as did the pretty bridesmaid, Miss Lorna White, who wore a dainty frock of pink silk crepe with overdress of brocade silk and vest of Dresden silk, and a lagoon hat. Edgar E. Brothour, a brother of the bridegroom, acted as best man. After the ceremony a reception was held at the home of the bride's parents, where many of their friends gathered to wish them joy before they left by motor for Victoria en route for Glacier park, where the honeymoon is to be spent. Mr. and Mrs. Brothour will return to Sidney to make their home there.

A MESSAGE TO THIN, WEAK, SCRAWNY FOLKS

An Easy Way to Gain 10 to 30 lbs. of Solid, Healthy, Permanent Flesh.

Thin, nervous, undeveloped men and women everywhere are heard to say, "I can't understand why I do not get fat. I eat plenty of good, nourishing food." The reason is just this: You cannot get fat, no matter how much you eat, unless your digestive organs assimilate the fat-making elements of your food instead of passing them out through the body as waste.

What is needed is a means of gently urging the assimilative functions of the stomach and intestines to absorb the oils and fats and hand them over to the blood, where they may reach the starved, shrunken, run-down tissues and build them up. The thin person's body is like a dry sponge—eager and hungry for the fatty materials of which it is being deprived by the failure of the alimentary canal to take them from the food. The best way to overcome this sinful waste of flesh building elements and to stop the leakage of fats is to use Sargol, the recently discovered regenerative force that is recommended so highly by physicians here and abroad. Take a little Sargol tablet with every meal and notice how quickly your cheeks fill out and rolls of firm, healthy flesh are deposited over your body, covering each bony angle and projecting point. Dr. E. Campbell, of other health doctors have Sargol or can get it from their wholesaler, and will refund your money if you are not satisfied with the gain in weight it produces as stated on the guarantee in each package. It is inexpensive, easy to take and highly efficient.

CAUTION—While Sargol has produced remarkable results in overcoming nervous dyspepsia and general stomach troubles, it should not be taken unless you are willing to gain ten pounds or more, for it is a wonderful flesh-builder.

GURDIT SINGH AS WRITER OF LETTERS

Sends Message to the Owner of Komagata Maru; Expresses His Views

Among the other activities of Gurdit Singh, during his enforced confinement on board the Komagata Maru in Burrard Inlet is that of letter-writing and the sending of telegrams. The latest copy of the Kobe Herald received at the Times office contains a reproduction of one of his letters, which he wrote to Mr. Sato, of Kobe, the owner of the Komagata. The paper also gives copies of four telegrams Gurdit sent out to his Majesty and H. R. H. the governor-general, as sent to Mr. Sato.

As will be seen from the reproduction of these below the leader of the party and charter of the vessel believe—or profess to believe—that if only he were ashore the end of the immigration act would speedily follow.

The letter to Mr. Sato reads as follows:

S. S. Komagata Maru
Vancouver Harbor,
10th June 1914.

Dear Mr. Sato,
I am alright and wish you to be in robust health. The statement of my voyage is as follows. I reached Vancouver B. C. on 23rd May 1914, and from that very day, I with my all passengers are kept confined in the steamer anchoring in the Harbour. The law of Immigration which is child's play before me, I could break it into pieces in Court, if I could go ashore, for this very reason I was confined in the vessel. Tyranny and Hardships are numerous, so far even my Legal Advisor and Friends were not allowed to see and communicate with me. In the same way I could not discharge my cargo and was quite unable to get my cargo. I with the passengers were so strictly watched that Newspapers were not allowed to come on board. Our reports first were to be put into the hands of Immigration, who could despatch, which they demand first, though I gave my notice to the Immigration Agent that you can't detain me and vessel, but passengers, but he did not care.

Your Agent Mrs. C. Gardner Johnson is doing absolutely against us, I don't know why. Before our reaching he gave many articles against us in

FIRST SECTION OF TUNNEL WORK IS DONE

Good Progress on Northwest
Sewer; Oak Bay Ave. Paving
May Be Postponed

The city engineering department had the satisfaction yesterday of finishing the first section of tunnel in connection with the northwest sewer. The south tunnel from No. 1 shaft, near the outfall, was pierced to meet the drift in from the open cut at McLoughlin point, the connection being made without the slightest difficulty. It will be some time, however, before the tunnel northwards under Smith street hill will meet the tunnel work being commenced at the outfall point.

Preparations are being made for driving tunnel Y, the intention being to drift in from an opening at Sea terrace as well as from the ends. Work in the open trench is also in progress at the ward road. At the Sunnyside tunnel, where the engineers are working in from Skikirk water, about 270 feet has been completed. This tunnel will be 1,300 feet long. It is the intention to have as much of the open excavation done as possible before the rains of winter set in.

Sewer work is also in progress in the King's road ravine, and at Oxford street. At the latter place, where the collapse of the brick surface drain has proved such an expensive item, it is proposed, now that the worst of the work has been repaired, to insert steel ties at each side of the brick work, and brace the sewer up, filling in with concrete in place of the bricks the base where further danger threatens. It is believed that by that means it will be possible to save a considerable amount of money, and also to secure a drain which will last the lifetime of the paving.

When the streets committee of the city council met this afternoon it found that the Oak Bay avenue situation, which it was believed had been cleared up on Friday last, was far from settled. Last week with a little opposition a resolution was carried by the assembled owners calling for the street to be paved with a bituminous surface on an asphalt base at a cost of $36,000, and the owners left the meeting intending to prepare a petition for the council to have this done. However it was learned that the owners are far from unanimous, and a petition on the matter signed by 30 residents was before the meeting to-day. This petition asked to have the work laid over for a season on account of the cost.

Alderman Todd has posted notice of motion for the next meeting of the council proposing to have Dallas road from Erie to Simcoe streets, a small piece near the outer wharf, paved. He wishes the council to take the initiative in this matter to avoid delay in proceeding with the work.

Of other streets authorized recently, a start has been made on the surface work on Blackwood street, and a surface drain on Haultain street will be started on Monday. Rock Bay avenue, another street to be permanently paved, will be the scene of operations in the immediate future. It is in a bad state, owing to the delays in commencing the improvement.

Alderman Todd has posted notice of a motion calling on the council to proceed with repairs to the Rock Bay bridge, at an estimated expenditure of $6,000. The matter has already been thoroughly threshed out in council.

Experienced shepherds declare that sheep turn their heads to the wind when the day is going to be fine; if they graze with their tails windward it is a sure sign of rain. They show unusual liveliness at the approach of a storm.

We are more profoundly humbled by some absurdity we have fallen into than some sin we have committed, unless the sin involved some absurdity.—Dr. Vinet

When the ancients said that a virtuous man was half done, they meant that we ought to take the utmost pains in every undertaking to make a good beginning.—Polybius.

CITIZENS ADD TO FUND

Many More Give Sums for Relief of Widow and Children of N. C.
Summers.

The fund for the relief of the widow and children of N. C. Summers, who, together with his son Edward, lost his life as a result of the fire last Saturday night, has been augmented by the gifts of many citizens since the list was published in the Times yesterday. To add to the general fund Mrs. C. Ellis collected $74.20 from those who felt sympathy with the bereaved woman and little ones. The benefit concert given at the Gorge park last evening added $63.15, the many people who were spending the evening at the park contributing generously. The list at the Times' office also continues to grow. The Times' list is:

As a result of the benefit concert held last evening at the Gorge park the sum of $63.15 was collected in aid of the fund for Mrs. Summers and her children. The crowd which attended the concert was unusually large, between seven and eight hundred being in the audience part of the night.

The program was an excellent one, one of the chief features being the playlet, "A King for a Night," given by the entire company. The remainder of the programme was as follows:

Opening Chorus—"Mandala"	Mr. Good
"Everyone in Town Loves My Girl"	Mr. Walters
"Do It Now"	Miss Janis

In addition to the funds already in existence in the city for the relief of the widow and children of the late N. C. Summers, there is one organized and controlled by the officers and members of the Amalgamated Society of Carpenters, of which Mr. Summers was a member. Subscriptions are forwarded to the Great West Permanent Loan Co. or to the secretary of the Amalgamated Society of Carpenters, P. O. box 770, Victoria.

GIVING BENEFIT CONCERT.
Band of 88th Fusiliers Will Give Special Performance at Pantages Theatre on Sunday Evening.

A benefit concert in aid of Mrs. Summers and her children will be given by the 88th Fusiliers' band on Sunday evening at 8.45 in Pantages theatre, which has been kindly lent by the manager, Mr. Rice, for the purpose. There will be a silver collection, and the excellent programme of band numbers will be augmented by a number of well known local artists. It is hoped by Bandmaster Rowlands that a large crowd will show sympathy by attending, as the concert has been arranged sufficiently late in the evening for church-goers to attend after the evening service.

RAID ON TRAPS

Provincial Police Drive Away Marauders From Sooke Fish Traps; Shots Exchanged.

A raid on the Sooke fish traps was repelled by the provincial police authorities early yesterday morning only after a fusillade of shots had been exchanged between the pirates and the patrol boat, the latter being in charge of Special Provincial Constable Owens.

The traps belong to J. H. Todd & Sons, and the raid, the first this season, had evidently been well planned. The night was dark, and the two marauding launches stole into the traps and were at work before the patrol boat had learned of their presence. In attempting to get to seaward of the pirates, the patrol boat was seen by them, the launches immediately making a swift dash from the traps. Constable Owens and the two men with him began firing at the two strange craft, and the shots were returned by the fishing vessels. For a time it was pretty warm work in the patrol boat for the bullets were flying round. Luckily, however, none of the police officers was hit. In their haste to get out of the way of the patrol boat the marauders left their apparatus for getting the fish out of the traps behind them, and the gear was confiscated by the authorities.

B. C. Hardware Co., Ltd., Ninth Annual Sale

Craigflower Road
Victoria West

SALE COMMENCING THE 18TH INST., CLOSING AUGUST 15

Each year about this time we have held an annual sale in a more or less limited way. The primary object of these Sales was to reduce stock which had been bought in too large a quantity the past year, as we invariably find it to our customer's benefit to overbuy rather than short, thus securing all possible discounts and clearing by means of a sale at considerably reduced prices. This year we have a doublefold reason for the biggest and best sale we have ever had, inasmuch that we have on hand the largest stock ever held by us, and on which we find it necessary to cut into approximately half and even when this is accomplished we shall have on hand the most complete retail stock in British Columbia.

This state of affairs has been brought about first by our amalgamation with the Island Hardware Co. (who had a $35,000 stock) and then again by the unusual trade depression after having bought goods to practically the same extent as usual, consequently we have OVER STOCKS IN EVERY DEPARTMENT, and now intend to clear in the following manner. Every reduction is genuine (backed by our years of reputable dealing) and in many cases goods are at actual cost and less to us as we must liquidate on most lines, as obviously money in bank is of more use to us than overstock in basements. Our slogan therefore this month is

HARDWARE AT FACTORY PRICES

Read through the following list, which only contains a very small proportion of our sale goods, and be convinced. The quality and service you get here is without question.

MAY END TRAVELS

ABROAD IN AUGUST

John Dean Writes to Friend Here, Giving Impressions of What He Has Seen

After travels abroad which have occupied months and taken him to many points of great interest, John Dean, the well-known realty man of Victoria, may return to the city in August. This intimation is made in a letter Mr. Dean sent to a friend here. He may make visits to Rome, Venice and Lucerne before he comes back.

On June 28 Mr. Deane was staying at Bath, the venerable spa on the Avon, whose mineral waters generations of famous men have taken. He is returning to London by way of Nottingham and King's Lynn. An interesting enclosure in his letter was a photograph of Captain Vancouver's grave, taken in St. Peter's churchyard, Petersham, Surrey.

Having visited Belfast, Dublin, Limerick, Tipperary and Cork, Mr. Dean says of the home rule question: "From a limited observation and information gathered, it appears that the question has been a political football for the past 40 years. Under existing government Belfast is a thriving, prosperous, up-to-date, go-ahead city. I counted 19 ships in course of construction and completion. The other places are in doldrums. Why is it? Not because of the government, but because of the people. In a suburb outside Belfast I saw colors presented to 1,600 Ulster volunteers belonging to West Down, a small section of Ulster, which in my opinion will never submit to home rule. Now they are arming and organizing an opposing force of home rule volunteers, all brought about by the political fakirs who are considering their own personal opinion and not the interests of the country."

Mr. Dean has made the rounds of the London art galleries and museums, but complains that it is much more difficult to secure permits to enter since the outrageous depredation of the suffragettes began. The removal of the horse from the streets of British towns to give place to motor-driven vehicles is the subject of comment also.

From telling of what he learned of the water question in London, Mr. Dean turns to the water question of this city. He strongly criticizes the large amount of money which Victoria is paying for the purchase of Goldstream water.

"According to the last report I saw they were supposed to be using more than 100 gallons per head per day. I have had a chat with the chief water examiner for the London metropolitan water board. He says the consumption in London is only 35 to 36 gallons per head per day. That they have the same trouble with algae in the water as we had at the lake, but that it is not the least injurious, though of course objectionable."

"I have been over the largest pumping plant and filter beds. Over 60 per cent. of the water for the whole of London is taken out of the Thames, which is crowded with fishermen, motorboats, and all sorts of pleasure craft. Permits can be had for fishing in the reservoirs. My patience is exhausted when I think of the folly of our people on the water question."

WILL WAIT ON PREMIER

Deputation From Victoria and Island Development Association Will Make Representations.

In furtherance of the effort to discover a way to develop the iron resources of Vancouver Island a deputation from the Victoria and Island Development association will wait on the premier to-morrow morning, most of the members of the provisional council attending. They will ask the government to appoint a mining engineer to investigate the iron ore deposits at various points on the island, so that, in presenting the facts to capitalists the association will have more information than that which has been available so far.

At the same time it is proposed to make representations on local needs of districts which have branches of the association, particularly with regard to bridges, roads and trails. The advantages of the Banfield west coast road have more than a local significance, the highway is of great value in case of accidents on the west coast, such as have unfortunately occurred in the past. The value of commun-

Dr. Chase is No Stranger

In This Home-Receipt Book and Medicines Kept at Hand All the Time.

There is no better safeguard against disease and suffering than a good cathartic medicine. In the great majority of homes Dr. Chase's Kidney-Liver Pills are constantly kept at hand, because they quickly awaken the action of liver, kidneys and bowels, and cure the most common ills of life.

Mrs. Thos. Smith, Jamestown, Ont., writes: "Dr. Chase is no stranger in our home, for we have two of his Receipt Books in the house. My father and my husband's father each had one, and I have been familiar with it ever since I can remember. It was only natural that we should use the Kidney-Liver Pills, and we found them so satisfactory in regulating the digestive system and curing the common ills of life that we always keep them on hand. Many a time these pills have saved me much suffering and prevented serious disease. We also keep the Ointment in the house all the time."

ication all down the south side of Barkley sound is incalculable.

There are other points which will be taken up with the government, some being in connection with industrial sites. It is hoped the government can expedite the settlement of the old Indian reserve question so that the sites reserved there may be available.

Doctor's Boyish Face Reveals Skin Renewer

I heard the other day the story of the physician with so admirable a skin that all his women patients asked his secret. He told one, who generously told others, that, knowing the remarkable absorbent property of ordinary mercurized wax, he concluded this substance would make an excellent complexion renewer and preserver. Knowing the wax could do no injury, he began using it after shaving. He soon observed that the old, withered, colorless cuticle was being gradually absorbed and replaced by younger, healthier skin. This was the simple secret of the silver-haired doctor with the boyish face. The secret became public property. Now women everywhere use mercurized wax, applying it off mornings—continuing until the complexion is entirely renovated. An ounce of this wax, procurable at any druggist's, will banish the worst complexion.

CHILDREN'S AID MEETS.

Twenty-Five Cases Investigated During the Month; Some Adequate Protection for Girls Required.

At the meeting of the Children's Aid Society held last week at the city hall, the president, Charles Hayward, in the chair, it was reported that the boys of the Children's Aid home had just returned from the camp organized by Ian St. Clair, physical director of the schools, who had kindly offered to give the boys the week's outing. The superintendent of the home reported that there were at present 22 boys in the institution, several of whom will be leaving, however, during the month, and whose places will be filled by others.

The secretary reported that twenty-five cases had been examined into during the month. Two girls of fourteen, who had applied for protection from cruelty, had been taken temporarily by the day nursery, as there was no accommodation for girls at the Children's Aid home. The trouble had brought up some further discussion as to the need of some form of adequate protection for girls who were the wards of the society, as although the funds provide for a boys' home there is no parallel institution for girls.

TO ORGANIZE BOARD.

Jubilee Hospital Directors Will Have Large Order Paper for This Evening's Meeting.

There will be a considerable amount of business before the recently appointed board of directors of the Jubilee hospital at its first meeting this evening. A chairman and officers will be selected, and probably a clerk of works will be named for the new buildings.

The new matron, Miss MacKenzie, of Mount Zion hospital, San Francisco, has arrived since the last meeting of the board, and will doubtless be welcomed. Probably the call for tenders for supplies for the year will be considered, and possibly the building policy of the board will be settled. The board's architect is calling for tenders for the cut stone work on the new hospital, to be in by Thursday.

HUMAN PROCESSION

Both of the Napoleon brothers, Victor and Louis, famous for their mirth-provoking act entitled "The French Pretenders," celebrated birthdays this week. Louis, the younger, passed the half-century mark yesterday, while Prince Victor-Napoleon, who would sit on the imperial throne of France if the republic hadn't destroyed that piece of furniture, will be 52 to-morrow. Louis was Victor's heir to the pretendership until last February, when a son was born to Victor and his royal spouse, Princess Clementine of Belgium.

The Napoleon brothers belong to the house of Jerome, and the pretender is a grand-nephew of Emperor Napoleon I. He lives in Brussels, and in 1910 married Clementine, the third daughter of King Leopold I. of Belgium. The birth of another Algon was hailed with great delight by the few followers of the pretender and the pretenderess, and the christening of the infant Prince Louis, "King of Rome," was marked by imperial pomp and eclat. The ceremony took place in the palatial premises of the proud papa in the Avenue Louise, and most of the imperialists of France were there, and did not crowd the building. The guests entered the palace between two files of imperial footmen, clad in green and gold and red, and looking very bored.

The visitors gazed with reverent awe upon the relics displayed in the salons of the palace. They saw the sword of the great Napoleon, the very weapon he had worn on the day he put on the imperial crown; the swords of Jerome and Murat; some of Napoleon's cast-off clothing, and other bric-a-brac which brought tears to their eyes. The baptismal gifts were numerous and costly, but the present which attracted most attention was an infant's service donated by Bonapartist ladies and society of Paris, who had raised a fund for the purpose by the following appeal:

"We ask all French women who desire to give expression to the patriotic emotions aroused in them by the birth of the great-grandnephew of Napoleon, and to affirm the fidelity of their hopes, to contribute to a fund by which we may give material proof of our patriotism on the occasion of the baptismal rites."

"The precious souvenir which we propose to offer to this young prince, banished from birth because born heir to the greatest name in history, will carry to him in his land of exile their warmest wishes, the heartfelt greeting and the smile of France."

Among those present at the christening were Prince Murat, the Duchess of Aosta, Baron Goffinet and other titled notables, and Prince Louis Napoleon acted as godfather. The infant, who was the centre of attention, wore the baptismal robe of the unfortunate Algon immortalized by Bernhardt, and Maude Adams. An archbishop prayed for "better days for France," and after the formal christening ceremony a dejeuner was held. It was all very ludicrous, or very pathetic, according to the point of view.

Prince Louis, the younger brother of the pretender, is apparently a confirmed bachelor. He served in the Russian army for many years, with the rank of lieutenant-general, but now resides at Geneva, where the Napoleons own a fine chateau. Whatever royalist sentiment there is in France now centers about Prince Victor, as the Duke of Orleans has by his disregard for conventions and morals, placed himself beyond the pale.

The North Railway company in France is making experiments in the use of wireless telegraph waves for clearing away fog. It is well known that electric waves act upon the water particles which make up fog, so as to dissolve them and turn them into vapor. Following this idea, it is claimed that as much as six hundred feet can be cleared up in front of the electric wires which are sending out the waves, the fog being at least partially dissipated, and this will have a great value in practice, especially for railroads and vessels at sea.

TO-DAY IN CANADIAN HISTORY

Construction of the Lachine canal, the first of the great system of artificial waterways which played so important a part of the early development of Canadian commerce, was commenced ninety-three years ago to-day, July 17, 1821. Canal construction had been urgently advocated since the British occupation, but it was not until a century ago that a legislative effort was made to provide for the building of the Lachine canal, to avoid the Lachine rapids above Montreal. The first attempt failed, and it was not until 1821 that operations actually commenced. The same year witnessed the beginning of the Welland canal between Lakes Ontario and Erie, which now ranks among the great waterways of the world. The British government contributed $400,000 towards the construction of the Lachine canal, as well as aiding the Welland canal by an appropriation of $222,000, and defraying almost the entire cost of the Rideau canal between Ottawa and Kingston. Sir Hugh Allan, the Hon. William Hamilton Merritt, and the Hon. John Young were among the influential men who, in the face of violent opposition, helped to bring about the Canadian canal system. The Richelieu canals were practically commenced in 1835 and completed in 1843. The same year witnessed the opening of the Beauharnois canal and the Cornwall canal, and the three Williamsburg canals were completed in 1856. Up to the union of 1841 opposition to canal-building was a political issue, but after that date the work was taken up in earnest, and between 1841 and 1867 a total of $21,000,000 was expended for this purpose. After confederation vast sums were spent in widening, deepening and enlarging the system and in constructing new waterways, until to-day the Canadian canal system is among the finest of any country in the world.

FIRST THINGS

The first number of Punch, the world-famous London satirical weekly, was issued seventy-three years ago to-day, July 17, 1841. Mark Lemon was the first editor, and associated with him were Henry Mahew, Douglas Jerrold, Gilbert A. Beckett, and others. The first cartoons and the first cover design were the work of Archibald Herring, a humorist who looked the part, for a contemporary writer declared that "merely to look at his jovial phiz is a cure for melancholy." The first edition of "Punch, or The London Charivari," consisted of 5,000 copies. All were sold in a day, and a second edition of 5,000 of the first number was sold out the following day. For a three-penny humorous publication this was a great triumph, and Punch from its first day of life has basked in the sunshine of prosperity. Since its birth Punch has had seven different covers. For more than three-score years, until October last, the cover remained the same, and all England was startled when Punch appeared in a gay colored dress, but with the old design practically unchanged except for the addition of colored inks in the printing.

Our sons should be laying their heads together to see what they are to do with the Church of Scotland when they get her back into their own hands.—Rev. Dr. Alexander Whyte.

A CHARTER FROM THE PUBLIC

IF publishers of daily newspapers were to cease issuing their papers during the summer months, saying: "It's too hot in July and August to publish papers, and, anyway, people don't read papers in summer," what a cry of protest would go up all over the land!

The public would say to the publishers:

"We must have the news and you must give it to us. You are our servants in this matter—our news gatherers and scatterers. We are ready to pay you for this service. You have no right or liberty to take it upon yourselves to cease publishing your papers at your pleasure or convenience."

Think of it! The Daily Newspaper exists by the mandate of the people. It alone among all publications may not continue or cease at its pleasure, for it holds its charter from the people whose servant it is.

Then think of this:—

Have those other servants of the people—the merchants who supply them with their daily necessities—any right to be silent with respect to the news they have for those who depend on them? Has not the public a right to demand that the news of the stores shall be published along with other news of value and interest? We put it up to the people of this community and to the merchants of this city that the store news of this community is necessary news and should appear regularly in the public press at all seasons of the year. Think of this, you merchants of this city.

La Marquise de Fontenoy

(Copyright, 1914, by the Brentwood Co.)

Of the three coronations set for this year, two, namely, that of King Constantine of Greece, which was to take place in May, and that of the new Emperor of Japan, which was scheduled for next October, have been postponed, that at Tokyo owing to the national mourning for the late emperor, and that at Constantinople owing to the death of the empress dowager.

The third coronation, that of the young Shah of Persia, was to have been solemnized this week. But it is doubtful whether it will occur. For there is no money whatsoever left in the national treasury at Teheran, and the Imperial Bank of Persia, the only institution of the kind in the country, has notified the ministry of finance officially that it could not continue to honor treasury drafts.

All government officials, as well as the troops have remained unpaid for months, and had it not been for an advance by the British government of $250,000, on the security of the Persian customs, which are to be taken care of by British officials, the gendarmerie and its Swedish officers, who are about the only remnants left of law, order and authority, would have struck work. Every penny piece of the $250,000 in question has gone towards the arrears of stipend and even as it falls they have not received their pay in full.

With no money in the treasury, with all sources of credit both at home and abroad tightly shut down, and with the people refusing to pay any taxes, aware that the government is unable to compel them to do so, the complete collapse of the entire administration and of the Shah's rule seems inevitable, and the partition of Persia between England and Russia at hand.

That this is the ultimate fate of Persia has long been foreseen. Indeed, were this not imminent, the English government would not have decided to invest over ten millions of dollars at once in the exploitation of oil wells, 150 miles from the sea coast, in the interior of southern Persia, oil wells which according to the declaration of first Lord of the Admiralty and the foreign minister, in the House of Commons the other day, are to constitute the main supply of the oil fuel required for the British navy. It is inconceivable that the British government should invest so many millions of dollars at the present time, with promise of many more in the future, in the exploitation of oil wells needed for the navy, if they were destined to remain under the flag and control of a foreign government. The only explanation of the outlook is that southern Persia is about to pass into British hands.

It is not often that a baronetcy changes its holder three times in a little more than a few weeks. It seems but the other day that I was recording in these letters the sudden death of Sir William Anson, vice-chancellor of the University of Oxford, long its representative in the House of Commons, under secretary of the department of education in the last Unionist administration, and warden of All Souls college, Oxford. He was succeeded in his baronetcy by his sexagenarian brother, Frederick, who for years had made his home in New Zealand, where he owned a place known as Piraki, in the province of Akawaia. Before he had time to sail for England, he too, passed away, and thereupon his only son, Denis, who happened to be in London at the time, became the owner of the family baronetcy.

Twenty-six years of age, and of New Zealand birth, he was full of life and fun; so much so, indeed, that it did not occur to him to grieve unduly for the deaths in such rapid succession of his father and of his uncle, the late Sir William. For Friday night a week ago he formed one of a particularly festive nocturnal frolic, which had a tragic ending. The party boarded a large steam launch, at Westminster bridge, at the close of the performance of the opera at Covent Garden, and steamed up the river to Richmond, having supper and music on board, returning to Westminster as the day was breaking.

Sir Denis, who was one of the party, which included the premier's son, Raymond, and Mrs. Raymond Asquith, Lady Diana Manners, daughter of the Duke of Rutland, Count Constantine Benckendorff, son of the Russian ambassador, and others, was dared by some of them to jump overboard, and to give evidence of his vaunted prowess as a swimmer and diver. This he proceeded to do, fully dressed as he was. Seeing that he was drowning, young Benckendorff, and one of the musicians jumped overboard in turn, Sir Denis lost their lives, Constantine Benckendorff was rescued with the utmost difficulty, and in a state of complete exhaustion.

At the coroner's inquest, which was held on Wednesday last, the coroner described Sir Denis's death as "a foolish prank, for which he paid a terrible price," while the jury rendered a verdict to the effect that "Sir Denis and the musician Mitchell were accidental-ly drowned, and that Sir Denis was quite sober but full of fun." No mention was made by the jury as to the sobriety or condition of fun of the heroic musician who lost his own life in endeavoring to save that of a fellow creature.

The result of this tragedy is that the baronetcy has passed to young Sir Denis's sailor uncle, Admiral Sir Algernon Anson, married to a sister of the late Lord Vernon, and of his American widow, who was Miss Frances Lawrence of New York. Sir Algernon cannot but have recalled to him by his nephew's death, through drowning, the violent end of his father, the second baronet of the line, who was killed in a railroad accident at Wigan. The baronetcy was bestowed upon Sir Algernon's grandfather, General Sir William Anson, for his services in the Peninsular war.

The Ansons have many affiliations on this side of the Atlantic. Thus, Alfred and Francis Anson, younger brothers of the Earl of Lichfield, who is the head of the family, have married American women. Mrs. Francis Anson being a daughter of George Cleveland of Texas, while Mrs. Alfred Anson was the widow of J. J. Emery, of New York, and daughter of General G. T. Alexander of the United States army. Still another brother, William Anson, owns a large ranch in Texas, where he has made his home for years, and where he has repeatedly entertained members of his family.

The Ansons have been settled in Staffordshire ever since the reign of James I. One of the best known of the Ansons was Admiral Sir George Anson, who acquired so much fame in connection with his voyage round the world, and who died as First Lord of the Admiralty.

Another notable member of the house of Anson, was Louisa, Countess of Lichfield, long one of the autocrats of London society, which submitted to her sway for near half a century. When she died in 1879 there disappeared with her the last of the famous Lady patronesses who on one memorable occasion refused admission to the Duke of Wellington because he happened to come in trousers in lieu of knee breeches to a dance there, and at another time closed the doors to the prime minister of the day because he had arrived five minutes too late.

SCRAP BOOK

Semi-Centenary of First Niagara Peace Conference.

Niagara Falls, the Canadian city chosen by the mediators of Argentine, Brazil and Chile as the scene of the Mexican peace conference, has played an important part in American history. In 1792 the village, then known as Newark, became the first capital of the infant province of Upper Canada. In 1813, during the last war between the United States and Britain, Newark was a storm center for the contending hosts. In 1813 it was burned to the ground by the Americans under Gen. McClure, who was severely censured by his own countrymen for his wanton cruelty to non-combatants. The English and Canadians retaliated by burning Buffalo. Just a century ago this month one of the most destructive battles of the war was fought near Niagara. In 1866 the Canadian town was ravaged by the Fenians.

The A. B. C. peace conference was not the first to be held at Niagara Falls. Just half a century ago to-day, on July 17, 1864, Horace Greeley arrived at Niagara Falls, N. Y., to attempt to patch up a peace between the Northern and Southern States. Across the river at the Clifton house, which occupied the site of the hotel where the Mexican and American delegates recently assembled, four commissioners of the Confederacy had met to open negotiations with Greeley. They were George N. Sanders, Clement C. Clay, of Alabama, Jacob Thompson, of Mississippi, and James P. Holcombe, of Virginia. The Confederate commissioners had made the advances, and President Lincoln requested the famous editor of the New York Tribune to proceed to Niagara Falls and communicate with them.

On his arrival at Niagara Falls Mr. Greeley sent a message by Col. W. C. Jewett, of Buffalo, promising the southern representatives safe conduct to Washington, where they could discuss peace plans with the president. The reply of the Confederates was that they were not authorized to act for the Richmond government, but that they were willing to accept safe conduct to Richmond, where they would bring the proposals to the attention of President Lincoln and his cabinet.

President Lincoln was informed of the request of the southern commissioners, and immediately issued a public statement:

"To whom it may concern: 'Any proposition which embraces the restoration of peace, the integrity of the whole union and the abandonment of slavery, and which comes by and with the authority of those who can control the armies now at war against the United States, will be met by liberal terms on substantial and collateral points at which the honor of either thereof shall have safe conduct both ways.'"

"ABRAHAM LINCOLN."

Horace Greeley delivered this message to the Confederates at Clifton House. The interview was brief, and Mr. Greeley immediately returned to New York, leaving Major Hay to continue the negotiations. Further conferences were fruitless, and the armies in the field were left to decide the issue by force of arms. Prior to the civil war Niagara Falls was the principal point of entry for slaves who sought liberty under the British flag, and the slave runners made the town their chief headquarters.

FACTS ABOUT SEALING INDUSTRY OF PORT

Son of Pioneer in Business Heard by Commission as to Its Early History

Some interesting information was given the sealing commission to-day by a man who may be said to have been with the business from the start, in that he saw the first schooner go out and afterwards succeeded to the management of his father's business. This was Captain Charles Spring, eldest son of the late Captain William Spring, the pioneer sealer, who was called by E. L. Tait to give evidence in his claim for compensation under the Washington treaty.

Captain Charles Spring was born in New Westminster when it was known as Queensboro, in 1859. He said he distinctly remembered the commencement of the sealing industry in 1889, when Captain James Christiansen, still in active service as a pilot, took out his father's schooner, the John. The late Captain Spring had become interested in a new method of catching seals.

A chance remark led Mr. Justice Audette to ask the witness for an opinion as to the respective merits of gun and spears in hunting seals.

"From the point of view of the sealers and the owners who had sent them the advantage was with the guns," replied Captain Spring, "owing to the much greater number they could secure. That is my own experience."

His lordship recalled the evidence of other sealers who had expressed preference for the spear, for the reason that the seals could be approached better, that what was struck was got, and that many animals shot were lost to the hunter and lost utterly in the case where they died from the wound.

"That is true," responded Captain Spring, "but nevertheless the gun was found in my experience to be much the better. I regret that ever they were introduced, however. I think at this date our position would have been better as to the number of seals in existence. The destruction caused in the herds was a very regrettable thing, and there was great loss in the seals that were shot but were not secured. We realized that shortly after the use of guns came in. The Indians were always strenuous in their objection to the use of firearms in hunting seals. Guns were first used off the Vancouver Island and California coast by Captain Dan McLean in 1882 on the schooner San Diego, which he started out to hunt sea otter but had not much success and then went to sealing."

"My father was the first man to place white hunters on sealers, sending Captain Dan McLean out in the Mary Ellen in 1884 into the Behring sea. It was his intention to send out two schooners, one with white sealers with guns and the other with the Indians and spears to see which would be the most successful, but he died in March, 1884, while the Mary Ellen was out. After his death his partner, Theodore Lubbe, managed the business but shortly after I thought him out. In 1885 I carried out my father's idea and sent out Captain Dan McLean and Captain Alexander McLean, the Sea Wolf in the Parvity, with Indian hunters and spears. That was the beginning of white crews from Victoria using shotguns, and rifles soon followed. The result was that the greater number of seals was taken by the white hunters although, of course, it was more costly."

The Kate and Onward, and then these vessels with the Favorite, the Mary Ellen and the W. P. Sawyer were the beginning of the Behring sea fleet so far as the port of Victoria was concerned. Captain Spring said. In 1888 all of Captain Warren's went up, one of William Munie's and his two, in 1892, when he had four vessels. They were fitted out for sealing on the coast and in the sea, there suddenly came rumors of possible restrictions, but nothing definite. All the vessels cleared for the North Pacific, which included Behring sea, but later on two were met at sea by H. M. S. Satellite and H. M. S. Nymph and warned not to enter the sea. It had always been the custom to hurry through with the work in Behring sea, with the double object of keeping the Indians crewed, good humor by bringing them back in time to start their fishing for winter food and of getting the vessels back in time to get out to the west coast trading stations before the winter gales.

As a result of these two being prevented from entering the sea and the fact that the articles will be of the usual high quality, the stock-as they are found to be because they are part of the stock and not imported for the occasion.

Speedy Trial.—Joseph Clayton, who is accused of smashing one of the plate glass windows in the store of George Powell & Sons, Government street, on June 30, came before Judge Lampman in the county court to-day for election. He would not take a trial before the police magistrate, mulling some I. W. W. sentiment about there being no justice in the courts when he was given his choice of summary trial or of going to the higher court. To-day he appeared to be much chastened and when asked whether he wanted to be tried by judge and jury or by the judge alone he chose the latter. Trial was fixed for Friday morning next.

Musical and Refreshment Go Hand in Hand.—and can be found at the Westhumble Grill where delicious Humber braw, Bavaria's finest, is served on draught.

Struck by Rock.—The prompt arrival of Constables Taylor and Florence at the scene of the accident, and their excellent first aid work saved James McKenna, a laborer for the city on the Sooke pipe line, from bleeding to death this morning. The unfortunate man was working in one of the trenches when a blast dislodged a large rock which fell upon him, striking him on the head.

Funeral of the late Mrs. Elizabeth Rebecca Bland took place yesterday afternoon from the B. C. Funeral chapel at 2:30 o'clock, the Rev. Frank W. Pratt conducting the services. A number of friends of the deceased were present, while the floral offerings were beautiful and numerous. The pall bearers were: W. L. Llewellyn, L. O. McCarter, F. M. McGregor, Capt. Clark, J. Roberts and H. Mullen.

The remains of the late William Steven Newman were laid at rest in Ross Bay cemetery yesterday afternoon. The funeral took place from the family residence, 309 Skinner street, at 3 o'clock, the Rev. Dr. McLean officiating, while at the grave services were conducted by Brother A. S. Ashwell, worshipful master of the Victoria Columbia No. 1, A. F. & A. M. Members of the Masons attended in a body. The pallbearers were: A. Armstrong, A. McKeown, A. Forbes, J. W. Crocker, S. C. George Flint, and Dr. Verrinder.

The funeral of the late Edward Redmond took place yesterday from the home of his son, John A. Redmond, 251 Beechwood avenue, to Ross Bay cemetery. Rev. C. T. Scott officiated. The late Mr. Redmond was for many years a well known and highly respected resident of St. Thomas, Ont., from which city he came nine years ago to live in Victoria. There were many friends present at the funeral service, and many beautiful wreaths covered the casket. The following acted as pallbearers: Messrs. Kyle, Murphy, Jones, Hall, Dyson and Capt. McIntosh.

fitting her out were very heavy, and the skins fetched a poor price. Frank Adams, of B. B. Marvin & Co., showed that in 1894, in spite of the big catch, a loss of 3.07 per skin had been made, as the skins cost the vessel $10, and only sold for $5.93. This he attributed to the poorer quality of the skins taken on the Japan coast and to the moist climate, rendering it more difficult to salt them properly. Questioned as to the large items in the accounts for provisions, Mr. Adams said that no expense was spared at that time, and the best of everything was none too good. It was not a case of salt pork, but of canned chicken, and no limit to the bill-of-fare. The cost of wages also ran very high.

ADVERTISE THROUGH EXTENSIVE TERRITORY

How Charms of City Are to Be Presented to Public of Western America.

In connection with the advertising campaign for the city, authorized by the council of the Victoria and Island Development association at the meeting on Monday, a series of advertisements is to be inserted in western Canadian papers and in the papers of the western states. It will be noticed that special attention is being given to the claims of Victoria as a home city, and that no attempt is being made to bring in artisans.

In eleven papers in Alberta, eleven in Manitoba and thirteen in Saskatchewan the following advertisements are being inserted:

"Victoria, B. C. Most temperate climate in Canada. Government record week ending July 14, bright sunshine 52 hours, highest temperature 69, lowest 51, no rain. Finest residential city on continent. Leading pleasure resort on coast. Establish your new home in Victoria. Be sure next vacation, summer or winter, is spent in Victoria. Free information on any subject. Victoria and Island Development association, Victoria, B. C."

"Victoria and Vancouver Island offer unequalled advantages to persons seeking a new place of residence or wishing to engage in small farming such as fruit growing, poultry raising, dairying, truck farming, or to those wishing to embark in manufacturing enterprises. One-half the rainfall, and one-third more sunshine than any city on the coast. Excellent public and private schools. All outdoor sports and recreations. Best paved, best lighted, cleanest and healthiest city in Canada. Be sure and visit the great Dominion agricultural fair, September 21 to 26. Half railway fares. Write us, all information. Victoria and Island Development association, Victoria, B. C."

The following advertisement will be inserted in 12 papers in Minnesota, 11 in Kansas, 4 in Nebraska, 11 in Colorado, 3 in Utah, 4 in Idaho, 8 in Montana, 2 in Wyoming, 4 in North Dakota, 8 in South Dakota, 9 in Washington, 6 in Oregon and 15 in California.

"Opportunities in Victoria, the beautiful capital of British Columbia. Most temperate climate on the continent. Opportunities in dairying, fruit growing, poultry raising and new industries. No hot summers, no cold winters. Rainfall 26 inches. Finest residential and tourist city on the Pacific coast. Population, 65,000. Write Victoria and Island Development association, Victoria, B. C."

False Pretences Alleged.—Alleged to have obtained $50 from Elizabeth Atkinson by false pretences, George C. Muir was arraigned in the police court this morning and remained yesterday by Detectives Heather and Edens.

There Are Two Things Necessary to Health.—Recreation and good meals. You secure both by walking to The Kaiserhof.

Will Have Sale.—The fact that the Seabrook Young store, 623 Johnson street, is to be enlarged has supplied the opportunity for its first large clearance sale of ladies' and children's clothing. Crowds are expected when the special bargains begin on Monday next, July 20. Though the goods will be marked down to the very low possible figure, the management assures the many patrons of the store that the articles will be of the usual high quality. The stock-as they are found to be because they are part of the stock and not imported for the occasion.

Speedy Trial.—Joseph Clayton, who is accused of smashing one of the plate glass windows in the store of George Powell & Sons, Government street, on June 30, came before Judge Lampman in the county court to-day for election. He would not take a trial before the police magistrate, mulling some I. W. W. sentiment about there being no justice in the courts when he was given his choice of summary trial or of going to the higher court. To-day he appeared to be much chastened and when asked whether he wanted to be tried by judge and jury or by the judge alone he chose the latter. Trial was fixed for Friday morning next.

Musical and Refreshment Go Hand in Hand.—and can be found at the Westhumble Grill where delicious Humber braw, Bavaria's finest, is served on draught.

Struck by Rock.—The prompt arrival of Constables Taylor and Florence at the scene of the accident, and their excellent first aid work saved James McKenna, a laborer for the city on the Sooke pipe line, from bleeding to death this morning. The unfortunate man was working in one of the trenches when a blast dislodged a large rock which fell upon him, striking him on the head.

a piece of sharp rock hurtling through the air, the missile striking McKenna on the arm, inflicting a deep and jagged wound. This the officers bound up in a manner that evoked congratulatory comment from Dr. Hasell when the man was removed to the Jubilee hospital. Stitches were put in the man's arm, and he is now little the worse for the occurrence.

Spilled From Car.—Although Mishaps to Irish cars are by no means unknown on their native soil it is somewhat unusual to hear in Victoria of anyone suffering from accidents to this kind of conveyance. This morning as they were crossing the car tracks at the corner of Douglas and Yates streets in their Irish car a lady and gentlemen were somewhat precipitately thrown from their seats to the ground by the horse tripping on the rails and the car partially overturning. Fortunately, however, the accident was not serious, and neither of the passengers suffered much more than the shock of the tumble.

Saanich Ratepayers.—The Central Ratepayers' association of Saanich meets this evening to discuss the municipal affairs of the district. It is contended that the municipal council has not been sufficiently prompt in redeeming its election pledges, and this matter has been the subject of statements at meetings of the ratepayers' associations of Wards I, II and IV, recently. The ratepayers' associations do not fully approve the large amount of preliminary work carried out in preparing for the waterworks proposal, nor the heavy legal expenses incurred in special legislation and in strengthening the affairs of the municipality. Down to the end of June engineering had absorbed about $5,000, and the legal expenses had been $2,800, and it is proposed to vote $3,500 more for the engineering department, and $1,200 more for legal expenses during the balance of the year.

WOULD HAVE BRIDGE FIVE FEET WIDER

B. C. Electric Railway Makes Request Regarding Johnson Street Structure

When the city council met in special session this afternoon as a committee of the whole on the Johnson street bridge question, an unexpected situation faced the aldermen. This was owing to the request of the B. C. Electric railway to have modifications made in the plans for the bridge in order to widen it to 47 feet and to provide for the passage over the bridge of freight cars. The company's officials also desired to have the bridge made stronger beneath so that heavy cars might be conveyed across it with safety.

As far as the mayor had been informed when he called the aldermen together prior to the streets committee meeting, the company had not offered to increase its contribution, which, from the commencement of negotiations, has been placed at $50,000. The aldermen were surprised at a change in plans being proposed at the present late date. The responsibility of the city to provide for a freight service across the bridge, as well as for passenger traffic, had not been contemplated.

The aldermen were advised that the changes outlined by Chief Engineer Conway would involve an extra expenditure of about $100,000. As it had been the opinion that the council knew fairly accurately what the actual cost of the structure was to be, the new proposal seemed close attention. Up to the present all negotiations had been carried on under the assumption that the total width of the bridge would not be more than 42 feet. The extra width of five feet is proposed because the clearance required for freight cars is greater than that for passenger cars.

Hon. C. W. Cross, attorney-general of Alberta, was in the city for a short time yesterday. He left again on the night boat.

Grant Smith, a member of the firm of Grant Smith and McDonnell, contractors for the new outer harbor, was in town to-day on business.

VICTORIA JUNIOR FOUR SUCCEED AT NELSON

Nelson, July 17.—The junior four was won by the fire from the James Bay A. A. of Victoria, after the closest race of the day, with Nelson second, barely three-quarters of a length behind.

The crews: Victoria—Chalk, stroke; Scott, 3; Day, 2; Sinclair, bow. Nelson—Johnstone, stroke; Phillips, 3; Gore, 2; Ambler, bow.

In the race for the diamond souls, W. N. Kennedy, of Victoria, winner of the senior single championship of the Pacific coast (northwest) at the annual regatta of the N. P. A. O., held E. B. Butler, of Toronto, for the first half-mile, with Frank N. Knott, formerly of Nelson, but now representing Vancouver Rowing club, close up. Kennedy was using twice as fast a start as Butler at the mile, and it was here that the Toronto man commenced to show stern to the competitors, and won.

The junior single event proved a fight for the first half-mile between Murphy, Cooper, H. Bendroft of Victoria, and George Thompson of Coeur d'Alene, but Murphy gradually drew away and retained a safe lead all the way. Cooper was an easy second.

A wonderful exhibition was given by Norman Ross of the Multnomah A. C. of Portland in the swimming races. He carried off the 100-yard dash with several yards separating him from his nearest rival, S. C. Stephens of Nelson, and in the 200-yard dash he got about three yards of a lead on Stephens, who was also second in this event.

W. N. Kennedy of Victoria won the crab race.

Open by August 1.—Assurance that the Courtenay extension of the E. & N. railway will be open for traffic by August 1 was given this morning by General Superintendent Beasley, who states that barring accidents the line will be in proper condition by that time. Until word is received, however, from the board of railway commissioners that its inspector has reported favorably on the road no actual date can be set for the formal opening.

UNION PACIFIC IN

EXCELLENT DEMAND

New Haven Steadied and Short Element Induced to Cover

(By F. W. Stevenson & Co.)

New York, July 17.—A renewal of the selling movement in New York Central to the accompaniment of the familiar rumors of public investigation of company's affairs, similar to New Haven, was a bear factor in sentiment.

Irregularity in Steel on nervousness with reference to the pending rate decision was also apparent.

Conversely, New Haven did better and Union Pacific was in excellent demand, chiefly from investment sources.

Shorts were active in the market on the relative light offerings of stocks.

However, on the strong spots, prices receded easily on concerted pressure.

INTERNATIONAL COAL

GIVEN PROMINENCE

B. C. Copper Went Up to Best
 Level of Months; Cororation Weak

The oil roster was marked by some bidding in different issues, particularly in stocks that for a time have shown lagging tendencies. Prices were not enthusiastically disposed. Athabasca showed considerable softness, recent profit-taking sales on the part of purchasers who bought at or below the dollar level necessitating strong absorbing ability. Sales were at $1.24.

June oil was quoted for the first time this morning.

International Coal straightened up well and appeared to slough off much of its recent depression.

There was some good support in B. C.
 Copper, the bid price of $1.50 per share being the highest of many months.

Offers of Coronation Gold were the lowest in the history of the stock, and buying power was an effortless affair.

Because They're Better Chairs

That's the Only Logical Reason Why You Should Invest in Them

And that's the reason why Weiler's upholstery has been recognized as the standard of quality for over fifty years.

To be really satisfactory a chair must be of generous proportions, have an inviting appearance, afford the degree of comfort that satisfies the tired owner, and, above all, substantially constructed.

The "Home-Maker's" upholsterers are ever ready to embody these features in a chair, lounge, Chesterfield sofa, or settee for you. Of course, price makes a great deal of difference but by choosing inexpensive coverings and adhering to simple effects, we can give you a fine chair at a price you will be willing to pay.

Easy Terms are easily arranged at this store, so there's no reason why you should be lacking the comfort you really need.

Sea Grass and Reed Furniture

Ideal for Summer Service and Useful the Whole Year Round

Few lines of furniture, sold at a comparatively small price, can offer so much in solid comfort and pleasing appearance as closely woven sea grass. On the fourth floor, we are showing a very fine assortment of easy chairs, rocking chairs, settees, etc., that are comfortable in their present condition, but if upholstered in an inexpensive cretonne, are luxurious.

Come in and see them as soon as possible.

Fumed Reed Furniture is made for permanent use in the home and has many charms not found in the regular line of furnishings.—Third floor.

Bath Mats That Stand No End of Wear and Washing

Being a "Sundour" product, the colors in these mats will never run when laundered or fade through exposure to the brightest sunshine.

"Sundour" dyes have been tested by exposure for several months to the East Indian sunshine and faded so very little that you can absolutely depend on them.

The mats have a white, or very light background, and the patterns are chiefly floral and foliage or combinations of flowers, foliage and trellis.

Ideal for use in the bathroom, and for a bedroom furnished in white enamel or such light-colored woods as bird's eye maple, and walls decorated with the light tints so popular to-day, a better rug would be difficult to find.

Samples now being shown in our Government street windows speak volumes in their favor.

Prices, according to size, up to $12.50 from $3.25.

Elkington's Silver Plate for Ever- lasting Wear and Good Taste

Although Elkington's plated ware is a little more expensive than the average, its quality more than counterbalances the difference in price. It is much harder and heavier than other makes, comes in more refined designs and is guaranteed to wear as well as sterling silver.

See the samples now in our windows and let us show to you more of it on our main floor.
